CHARTER SCHOOL

Students, teachers, parents and caregivers are returning to school, but this Fall couldn't be more different. "Back to School: Re-entry and Resilience" is a presentation for parents and caregivers focusing on how we can support our children as they return to school. Clinician Jon Mattleman will provide attendees with context to the factors impacting this school year, highlighting the resilience we've all shown during this challenging time, and how we can use that to be a source of strength, stability, and support for the youth in our care.
