1. EV Battery

The EV battery system is the largest manufacturing departure from typical internal combustion engines. It is crucial to manufacture these components to efficiently manage energy with safety & reliability. DuBois metalworking fluids, lubricants, & metal cleaning & finishing solutions help manufacture high-quality, long-lasting parts that are designed to withstand the stresses of their environment.

2. Chassis

Where the battery meets customers' energy needs, the chassis meets the customers' safety & comfort requirements. Without a durable, lasting chassis that delivers a safe and smooth ride, there is no final product. DuBois metalworking fluids, oils & lubricants, & metal finishing solutions support a corrosion-resistant, durable, & functional product destined for success.

3. Body

The body is one of the most important safety features of a vehicle, in addition to its impact on customer experience & energy consumption. DuBois metalworking fluids, metal cleaners, & finishing solutions provide a quality output that prepares the surface for maximum powder coating adhesion.

4. Complete Plant Solutions

An effective manufacturing operation takes in all aspects to achieve the greatest success, both in quality & sustainability. DuBois technical experts apply the highest quality chemistries in manufacturing processes as well as ancillary water, wastewater, & facility maintenance operations that contribute to the total plant operation. These chemistries, combined with innovative equipment technology designed to control & monitor a system, are a tried-and-true recipe for success.
