A straightforward guide to discovering your role at Mompreneur Source.

Welcome.

“You’re here because you’re building something important or supporting those who are.”

At Mompreneur Source, we value sacred spaces, clear roles, and a community that moves together with the same heart, not just the same direction.

Whether you’re a mom ready to rise or an ally to uplift, this guide will help you determine where your purpose fits.

What's Inside:

A short quiz to determine:

Member or Mission Partner?

Partner Roles:

Champion, Empower or Legacy

Member Levels:

Core, MOM BOSS Collective, Empowerment Circle,
Visionary Moms Alliance

Membership is ONLY for Moms. Not because we're exclusive — but because we're intentional. We're building a space where moms can let down the armor and grow without apology.

For Moms in Business:

You belong here as a member.

Because you've built your dreams in between diaper changes and deadlines.

Because you've questioned your worth when no one showed up to buy.

Because you know your calling didn't disappear when you became a mother — it got louder.

You want:

- A safe space to be both visionary and vulnerable
- Tools to grow your business without selling your soul
- Support from women who get it — because they live it too

For Men, Allies, and Supporters:

You belong here as a partner.

Because you believe in elevating women.

Because you want your dollars and voice to create change that echoes.

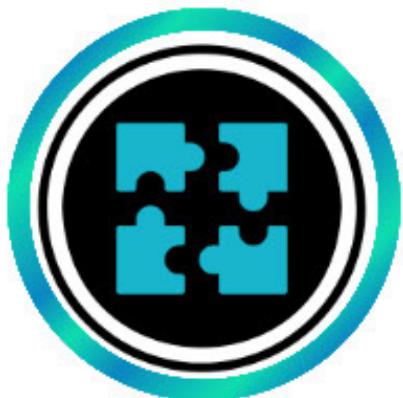

Because you understand that moms in business aren't "cute" — they're critical to economic revival.

You want:

- Opportunities to sponsor, mentor, or refer
- A front-row seat to rising talent
- Visibility as someone who walks the talk when it comes to empowering

You can't be a member — but you can be essential.
And we welcome you.
