

ANTIOCH UNIVERSITY

Earn a Master of Education (MEd) with a Transdisciplinary Focus on

Healing Education

How do we make the world a better place when the scars of trauma have become collective?

How does human spiritual development support healing in action?

New cohort begins January 2, 2025

RENEW YOURSELF

- Conduct research in a specialized focus area of your choice
- Develop methodological approaches to questions that may arise from your practice
- Earn a master's degree from an accredited university
- Enhance your capacity for collaborative inquiry and work in transdisciplinary contexts
- Transform and evolve your practice through applied spiritual scientific inquiry
- Attend two summer residencies in New Hampshire
- Complete online work throughout the year
- Write your thesis in your concluding semester (MEd only)

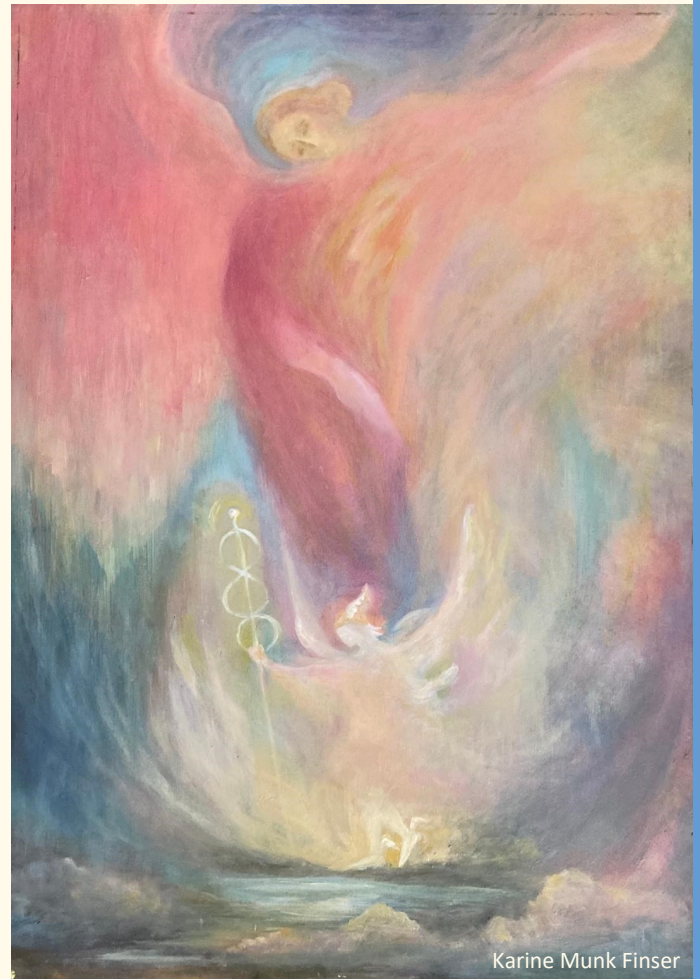

This advanced track master's program is designed for people with at least 5 years of professional experience in a relevant field and a practice based on anthroposophical foundations. This program is a collaboration between Antioch University New England, Camphill Academy, and the Kairos Institute to support innovation and healing.

EARN AN MEd (32 credits)

or CERTIFICATE (28 credits)

Visit the Waldorf Program Site
bit.ly/TSHE2025

Karine Munk Finser

TSHE students take two Kairos Institutes (summer residencies) for graduate credit. To learn more about the Kairos Institute, please visit bit.ly/KairosCfA. The Kairos Institute offers many courses throughout the year that are open to all.

For more information, please don't hesitate to get in touch with: Karine Munk Finser, Director of the Transdisciplinary Studies in Healing Education Program (TSHE), at kfinser@antioch.edu or 603.491.2294.

Dana Kedziora • admissions.ane@antioch.edu • 800.552.8380
Karine Munk Finser • 603.491.2294 • kfinser@antioch.edu