COVID Workplace Dialogue Series

Social distancing has been important to mitigate the spread of Covid-19. Even so, we can acknowledge that it poses challenges to the way we work, interact and socialize. For some, this has been frustrating. For others, traumatizing. We can all agree this is very hard.

Your staff is thinking about:

- What to do for child care or care for a sick person if they have to return to the office.
- Frustration about the inability to do activities they love, the things they need to refresh.
- Being isolated and alone for months and what re-connecting in person will look like.
- Mourning the loss of someone close to them.
- The inequalities the pandemic has brought to the surface.
- Economic uncertainty and the increased pressure to provide for their families.

Your entire team needs support. To fill that need, we created a COVID Workplace Dialogue Series. One hour a week, for five weeks, we'll facilitate important discussions that address the questions and anxieties in the back of your staff's minds. Providing a dedicated space to share helps employees stay focused. And in a time when we are so dispersed, it helps them reconnect.

★ Week 1: The pressures of home life and family.
★ Week 2: Anxiety, illness and loss.
★ Week 3: Uncertainty and vulnerability in the economy and what it means for you.
★ Week 4: The pandemic and inequality.
★ Week 5: Identifying needs and how to create a supportive environment.

Our experienced facilitators create comfortable and safe spaces to encourage vital dialogues. Each series/cohort can include up to 20 employees, to maximize the time each person has to contribute. Each business/organization can have up to 10 cohorts. (>10? contact us for an alternative model).

We want everyone to have access to this vital series, so each 5 week cohort is just $2500.

Our first cohorts start in June!
