

EDUCATIONAL SESSION

"RACIAL AND ETHNIC IDENTITY DEVELOPMENT: IMPLICATIONS FOR BIPOC COLLEGE STUDENTS MENTAL HEALTH AND ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT"

Educational sessions are offered two times throughout the course of the academic year for students, faculty, professional staff, and administrators, a part of the Rowan community who are eager to build upon, and gain an additional knowledge base on how to best work with students of color.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18

3:00 PM - 4:00 PM

Dr. Jonathan Lassiter, Ph.D.

Dr. Jonathan Lassiter, Ph.D. is a polymath who utilizes psychology, writing, and dance to help others heal and thrive. His roles include licensed clinical psychologist, professor, author, public speaker, and choreographer. As a public intellectual, Dr. Lassiter has been featured on television, radio, podcasts, and print such as PBS and Sirius XM.

Dr. Lassiter is the award-winning co-editor of Black LGBT Health in the United States: The Intersection of Race, Gender, and Sexual Orientation.

Dr. Lassiter has published numerous articles in academic journals and lay publications, presented his choreographic work in prestigious showcases in New York City, and provided psychological services to clients in medical centers across the country.

Currently, Dr. Lassiter is Assistant Professor of Psychology at Rowan University, Founder and Chief Psychology Officer at Lassiter Health Initiatives, co-host of Fly on the Wall on YouTube, and Artistic Associate at The Black Acting Methods Studio.

LINK

<https://rowan.webex.com/rowan/j.phpMTID=mb44189df81f0c9b6c93b951d2ea4ffe5>

ANY QUESTIONS? EMAIL UGOODFAM@ROWAN.EDU

UGOOD FAM?

FOSTERING AND ADVANCING MENTAL HEALTH AND EMOTIONAL WELL-BEING AMONG STUDENTS OF COLOR

 @UGOODF.A.M