

PROJECT ARCHITECT - NORTHWEST ARKANSAS STUDIO

WER Architects is seeking an Architect with a minimum of five years' experience to join our Northwest Arkansas team! An ideal candidate would be forward-thinking, energetic, and able to lead a team of architectural staff and engineering consultants on a diverse range of projects in both size and type. We're seeking a candidate that has good leadership skills, a commitment to design excellence, and enjoys collaboration with other team members. The candidate should be comfortable working in all phases of design through construction administration, as members of our staff are a part of all aspects of the profession.

WER Architects has been an Arkansas-based firm for over 45 years. We have a tradition of architectural excellence and commitment to academic and scientific institutions, corporate and cultural institutions, as well as historic preservation. Our studio is an open-office environment conducive to a collaborative design approach which encourages creativity and the exchange of ideas. Our Fayetteville office, which has deep roots in the area, continues steady growth in one of the most dynamic regions of the country, Northwest Arkansas, and will soon relocate to an office directly adjacent to the Razorback Greenway.
