

The Business of Giving Back: Alumni Advisory Board

The legacy of Coppin State University is alive in the hearts of those who have received the benefit of an Eagle education. The impact is staggering when considering those who attended CSU, their families, their employers, their effect on tax revenue, and their presence in the region where many graduates remain. The value of Eagles who are now soaring beyond "the nest" is not only experienced in their social and economic impact. Their value is experienced in their assisting those who have yet to take flight. Their desire to give back became the inspiration for forming the CSE Alumni Advisory Board.

The CSE Advisory Board provides an opportunity for graduates to stay engaged and bring to the table the best of what their Coppin academic preparation has enabled them to accomplish. The contribution of board members to the ongoing success of our community is captured in their mission and vision statement below. They are reflective of the words of Dennis Morrison, former quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers: "For us, giving back is not an extracurricular activity." It is born of a deep sense of gratitude, appreciation, and a desire for others to achieve.
