PASTOR'S LETTER

“This is the reason that I Paul am a prisoner for Christ Jesus for the sake of you Gentiles...” -Ephesians 3:1

The Apostle Paul's perspective in his letter to the church in Ephesus is so refreshing! He does not desire pity nor expressed feelings of defeat. Paul sees purpose in his mission and the suffering he experiences is for the sake of the Gospel and the glory of Gentile believers. This is a worthy cause and he wants the reader to feel encouraged- God is still in control! I think I have said this phrase at least one hundred times over the past two years. I say it because I believe it. Certainly I have moments in which I do not feel it. That is why biblical perspective is so important in keeping us focused and encouraged. God is still in control! I cannot relate with the pain of being chained to a prison guard. However, I have experienced the frustration of a nationwide lockdown and mask mandates and social distancing rules and having restrictions placed on hospital visits of family/loved ones and graduations that cannot take place in person and funerals that could only be private preaching to twelve people in a room that seats four hundred... and the list goes on and on and on. Do I understand why we have had to endure this as a culture? Not completely. However, I do see God's hand in much of this and I am 100% convinced that He is completely in control!

My prayer this Lenten season is less about abstaining and more about returning. My prayer this year is not so much to fast from meat and chocolate, but to return to corporate fellowship and practices of worship. Yes, Lent is traditionally a time in which we give something up for a month or so. However, it seems as though this has been our posture for the last two years. Maybe not in a spiritual sense, but we have certainly abstained from many of our common practices. Why not make our focus this Lenten season giving? Giving more time to God in our devotional lives or to our church in fellowship or to the community in service. And as we return to giving, perhaps sacrifice and fasting will take place more organically (less time on social media, TV, working from home, etc.). And as we seek to return, may we do so with spiritual intention and keep our eyes on the One who is completely in control.

May the Lord continue to bless you and may His word be an encouragement to your spirit.

Blessings in Christ,

Pastor Dave Rockness

STEWARDSHIP

“Giving your time, your talents, and your tithes to God’s work...”

Prayer- Thank You, Lord, for the gifts of Jesus Christ and of the Holy Spirit, who enables me to be a steward of all you have entrusted to me.

The Word Incarnate - John 1:1-18

Jesus the Word is the creator of everything; this is his world. This passage not only underscores Jesus’ full ownership of all creation as his rightful possession but also serves as a foundation of his love and providential care for all he has made. Jesus, the Creator of the world, was unwilling to leave his “very good” creation to the destructive powers of sin, but rather, he came to redeem his handiwork

In the wisdom of God, to redeem man from his sin required the Son to become a man himself- The Word himself had to become flesh. John’s Gospel begins with the astounding declaration of the act of God in becoming one of his own creation... If stewardship, in its simplest implication, is about giving, then John 1:1 confronts the world with the most sublime gift ever given, the most astounding act of generosity that can be imagined.

God presented his most valuable gift to man in the Eternal Word made flesh. Once in the world, Jesus the Incarnate Son then gave himself to the Father in complete submission and to the world as the Servant from God. In his earthly existence, Jesus was a steward charged with a divine mandate. Stewardship can be defined as “the obedient management of life and all its resources under the guidance of the Holy Spirit to the glory of God and the advancement of his kingdom.” Jesus fulfilled his role of steward perfectly:

No matter how difficult the testing became, no matter how demanding the giving of self, no matter how costly in terms of friendship, following, or popularity, Jesus managed his life faithfully. When ultimately such perfect management meant giving up his life for the cause of the kingdom of God, Jesus was willing, and he did so. He made no exception to his total stewardship of life for anything, including his life itself.

Looking at the world filled with people facing the death sentence of sin, Jesus Christ laid aside the riches of heaven and came to be Savior. As he walked the earth, he continued to give his all, managing every opportunity, every gift, every resource, for the glory of God and the building of his Kingdom. Even faced with death, he gave his last treasure, his own life, to save the lives of others. He went to the cross with no regret that if he had been a better steward he might have done more. He had done everything God wanted of him and he became the master steward, both Savior of humanity and example to those who would follow him. PRAISE BE TO GOD!

MISSIONS

Dear First Presbyterian Church,

I'm sitting at 143 Coffee House this morning reflecting on God's wonderful grace. Weekends like this are rare and wonderful. I love to imagine the spiritual implications of what we experienced this weekend. There is a beauty and connection in the body of Christ that we don't always recognize simply due to the limitations of our perspectives and the busyness of our lives.

Lifewater is in the unique position of hearing the prayers of the villagers as they seek help, pray for relief, strength, grace, and a future. They even pray for the Church in America that we would be receptive to God and hear his call. Then, on the other side of the world, the Spirit moves in the hearts and minds of other members of his body, and people respond with empathy and compassion for those they will never meet. They give with generous hearts and open hands. Our part in this story began to unfold over a year ago with Dr. Campbell's willingness to share Lifewater with Jason and Chris. It was your willingness to explore ideas that started to open doors and create a connection. I love to watch how God moves through his people. It is humbling to be a small part of the effort and I am thrilled to work with you reaching vulnerable families in the most remote parts of the world with the gospel of hope and safe water.

To all of you, thank you for the opportunity to share Lifewater with your church, and thank you for your hospitality. Lifewater is indebted to your kindness and deeply appreciates your compassion toward the people of Ethiopia. You will create the resources and tools they need to take ownership of their communities' health and provide them the opportunity to hear about the love of Christ. Thank you for an incredible weekend.

I look forward to stewarding your support and sharing more about the impact of your gifts.

Gratefully,

Jim Evans, Lifewater

YOUTH

Middle School Summer Camp

July 23 to July 27 the Middle School group is heading to The Great Escape at Young Life's Ocala National Forest Camp in Florida. The Great Escape was the first and is the oldest continually running middle school conference in America today. Founded in 1982 with 300 young people, The Great Escape has grown to 6 different camps and conferences in Florida, Tennessee, Colorado, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, and Mississippi.

The success of The Great Escape rests in the fact that the teams planning the events understand and know kids. Because so many of them are also full-time church youth leaders, they know that your number one goal for a summer conference experience is for your students to hear the message of Jesus.

Each week is packed full of recreation and activities as well as dynamic speakers, musicians, and other artists who understand how to communicate in real ways with young people. The Great Escape is a tremendously fun and exciting atmosphere where students feel comfortable and loved, and where they will have the best week of their lives experiencing the love of Jesus!

The camp, called Southwind, is located along beautiful Long Lake at the edge of the 420,000 acre Ocala National Forest. In addition to its beauty, Southwind has plenty to offer. Our activities include a water recreation area, paddle boards, canoes, high ropes, beach volleyball, disc golf and much more. The passion of the staff is ministry and their desire is to see our group have a meaningful and memorable experience. To register please go to moorevillefpc.org/youth and fill out the form. The cost of camp is $435 and the deadline is April 15. Contact Youth Intern Alyssa Deery (alyssa@moorevillefpc.org) or Pastor Jason with questions.

PRESCHOOL

Dr. Seuss Week

In honor of Dr. Seuss' birthday, we have special days to celebrate Read Across America. We have Silly Sock Days on March 1 & 2. We'll dress like our favorite Seuss character OR in red, white and black on March 3 & 4. I can't wait to don my Cat in the Hat costume and read to all the classrooms!

Spring Break

Our Spring Break is scheduled for March 7-11. We hope you enjoy this time with your family.

Leprechaun Hunts

We are anxiously awaiting the arrival of St. Patrick's Day and the Leprechaun. He's a tricky little guy who makes his appearance at school, but is elusive and hard to catch. The children always get excited to see if he will bring us gold! Remember to wear green on March 16 & 17. We will go on our Leprechaun Hunts and hopefully find his gold! Wish us luck!
