

SATURDAY, MARCH 19 ~ 10:00 a.m. via Zoom

CHRISTINA PFEIFFER

Cultivating a More Drought Resilient Garden:
Simple Steps for Helping Gardens
Weather Drier Seasons with Less Stress

On Saturday, March 19, at 10:00 am, the Lopez Island Garden Club will feature Christina Pfeiffer presenting Cultivating a More Drought Resilient Garden

This presentation will be recorded.

Christina is an author, educator and consultant who has enjoyed a long career working in public gardens, horticulture education, and consulting. She is committed to practicing and teaching the art and science of horticulture with an emphasis on sustainable and efficient techniques. Christina is a regular speaker for many local garden groups and at public programs including the UW Botanic Gardens, Master Gardener training and events, PlantAmnesty, and the NW Flower & Garden Festival. She has taught the pruning course at the Edmonds Community College for over 16 years. She holds degrees in horticulture from Michigan State and the University of Washington, and is an ISA Certified Arborist®.