

A Lifeline for Farmers: How President Trump's Bill Delivers for Rural America

President Trump's One Big Beautiful Bill is more than a historic win for the American taxpayer - it's a lifeline for our farmers. As a member of the House Agriculture Committee and a proud voice for Alabama's farming families, I fought hard to ensure this legislation delivered real results for rural America, and it does.

For too long, Washington bureaucrats have ignored the needs of the folks who feed and fuel this nation. But under President Trump's leadership, we're changing that. This bill increases reference prices for key commodities, strengthens crop insurance protections, and helps secure the future of over 60,000 hardworking Alabama farmers.

We didn't just stop there, the One Big Beautiful Bill also raises the death tax exemption threshold to $15 million, protecting thousands of family farms from being gutted by the IRS. It includes full funding for the Feral Swine Eradication Program, which I introduced legislation on to protect Alabama's farmlands from destruction.

Disaster relief also got a major boost. After years of flooding, drought, and hurricane damage, our producers need fast, dependable aid. This bill ensures those funds are there - without the string attached that are so often found when Washington gets involved.

We built this package with the real-world needs of farmers in mind. I grew up on a farm. I understand what's at stake when the crops fail, or when a family's future is tied to a piece of land. This bill is about making sure our farmers not only survive - but thrive.

America's agriculture community spoke, and Republicans listened. Thanks to President Trump's bold leadership, and the work Republicans did in Congress, rural America is back at the table - and winning.
