Participating in the 2025 All Saints' Bake Auction

1. There will be two parts to the auction as usual – the Silent Auction online and the Live Auction in the Parish Hall. To participate in either (or both!), you'll have to be registered at https://www.32auctions.com/AllSaintsBake2025, the auction platform we used last year.

   If you registered on the site last year, please make sure you can log in again (forgotten passwords can be easily requested at the link above). Plan to square away your https://www.32auctions.com/AllSaintsBake2025 registration in advance so you'll be ready to go on auction day.

   All the baked goods (both live and silent) can be previewed on the 32auctions site as they get added. Items will also be displayed in the Parish Hall from 9-11am.

2. The Silent Auction will take place entirely online at 32auctions.com. On 32auctions, you can preview the Silent Auction items, choose your favorites, watch the bidding on all items you've placed bids on, and finally when the auction closes you will receive an invoice for the items you won.

   The invoice will contain a link to All Saints' online payment system.

   The items themselves will be in the Parish Hall, so you'll be able to take your winnings home with you to enjoy if you are in person or pick up at a later date.

3. The Live Auction will be IN PERSON, in the Parish Hall. You'll be able to peruse the items in the Parish Hall before the auction starts. Live Auction bidding will be live, with good ol' fashion paddles, in the Parish Hall.

   After the Live Auction ends, you'll receive your invoice(s) from 32auctions.com for any item(s) you've won. Your invoice will give you a link to the All Saints' payment system, where you can make your payment.

4. A note about cash: bring some, you won't regret it! Our Atrium II children will be selling bags of delicious cookies in the Parish Hall during the auction for a dollar. The children don't take Venmo or PayPal, won't invoice you, or give you credit, even if you're their parents. They only take cash. (And, fair warning. Ms. Polly instructs them not to make change!

   (We will also happily take a personal check.)
