ECONOMIC VITALITY = RESULTS

This workshop will focus on how Economic Vitality can be integrated throughout the entire Main Street organization using these learning objectives:

- How to package the organization's worth to partners like the city, sponsors, business owners, retailers, volunteers and residents.
- What data needs to be collected and shared? From mining data to implementation to tracking and visually demonstrating trends.
- How to communicate those numbers to investors or the city council.
- Sharing real-world examples from across the Midwest to illustrate a 3-D approach to EV that engages volunteers and partners.
- Equip Main Street organizations to achieve - and celebrate - EV success.

Jay Schlinsog, owner and managing principal of Downtown Professionals Network, will help to break down the topic and its related challenges in the simplest terms, and demonstrate how the diverse experiences and backgrounds of local EV players can translate to economic development success for Main Street.
