

A Great Day in the Kingdom – September 4, 2020

What would the world be like if all of humanity decided to Bless one another? Have you ever encountered someone who obviously decided to Bless those around them? Years ago, in Granbury, Texas there lived a man who ran a hamburger joint, with joy. When you walked in, he would not only greet you, but inquire as to how your week was going. To this day, I believe over half of his patrons were there to receive his Blessing. Not only were they greeted with joy, but they departed with his Blessing. As anyone and everyone left his establishment, this man would wish them a “Blessed” week.

Has anyone ever wished you a Blessed week or day? It sounds so much better than, “Have a nice day.” I cannot imagine what this gentleman's childhood experience must have been. He was not Blessed with a regular name. This name must have resulted in ridicule from fellow children. This name must have marginalized him as an adult. What was his name? His name was Pervis Cornstubble.

My belief to this very day is that Pervis decided to Bless all those whom he encountered, because he had spent his life experiencing the polar opposite. Pervis made you glad you arrived. Pervis even offered a Blessing to your future. Pervis gave hope, as he cared. Pervis offered hope in being the Hands and Feet of Christ. Who would have thought, going to get a hamburger would involve receiving hope, joy and peace. As The Church of Jesus Christ, we are called to offer the same Blessing.

Romans 15:13, Tells us, “May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit you may abound in hope.”

Have a BLESSED WEEK, CHURCH!!!
