Award winning public radio host Krista Tippett will interview tech entrepreneur Anil Dash onstage at the Avalon Theatre on Thursday evening, November 17, 2016. Presented by Aspen Institute Wye Fellows and Dock Street Foundation, the event is titled, “Emerging Technologies and Old-Fashioned Civics: A Conversation with Anil Dash.”

Anil Dash is a New York-based tech entrepreneur, advocate and writer who is working to make technology and the tech industry more humane, inclusive and ethical. The onstage conversation will be recorded and will simulate a live broadcast.

Tippett is known worldwide for her longstanding public radio show ‘Speaking of Faith’ and its current iteration, ‘On Being’ which explores the big questions of meaning with scientists, theologians, artists and teachers. She has interviewed the Dalai Lama, Maya Angelou, Maria Popova, Martin Sheen, Desmond Tutu, Thich Nhat Hanh, Rosanne Cash, Yo-Yo Ma, Mary Oliver and Elie Wiesel. President Barack Obama awarded Tippett the National Humanities Medal for “thoughtfully delving into the mysteries of human existence. On the air and in print, Ms. Tippett avoids easy answers, embracing complexity and inviting people of every background to join her conversation about faith, ethics and moral wisdom.”

American blogger, entrepreneur and technologist, Dash was previously an independent technology consultant and new media developer for the Village Voice, Dash was the first employee of Six Apart, the makers of Moveable Type, TypePad and Vox. Dash’s blog, anildash.com, is about how technology shapes and transforms society, media, government and culture. His twitter handle @anildash has been singled out as one of the best accounts to follow.

The Wye Fellows are part of the 67-year old Aspen Institute and provide an extensive program of nine to ten dialogue events and receptions as well as two concerts annually at the Institute’s Wye River Campus near Queenstown.

The broadcast will take place at Easton’s Avalon Theatre on Thursday, November 17 at 7:00 pm. General Admission tickets for the event are $15 or $35 for admission and an autographed copy of Tippett’s new book “Becoming Wise.” Tickets are available online at dockstreetfoundation.org or by leaving a message at 410-820-5433.
