Working to improve the lives of Hispanic older adults and their families

March 31st, 2020

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Due to the ongoing pandemic of COVID-19, the National Hispanic Council on Aging (NHCOA) is developing innovative ways to continue engaging, informing and listening to communities. For 51 years, NHCOA has worked to improve the lives of Hispanic older adults, their families, and caregivers. During our Tele Town Hall, we will reach and engage Latinos on the following topics:

- COVID-19, and
- Health Research

This year’s Teletownhall will feature an open space for communities to engage in education and advocate for themselves and other older adults to age in place and in the best possible health. I am contacting you to respectfully request your participation in this event. The NHCOA Teletownhall will be held in English and Spanish. The information for each respective Teletownhall is listed below:

This Teletownhall will bring together older adults, community leaders, and caregivers with local elected officials, providers, and stakeholders to ensure their needs and concerns are voiced in an attentive, receptive and culturally sensitive environment.

Established in 1969, NHCOA is the largest constituency-based organization representing Hispanic older adults. NHCOA represents a network of 42 community-based groups across the continental U.S., the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. NHCOA maintains a broader network of 7,000 individuals and reaches 10 million Hispanics each year through its work and that of its affiliates.

I am looking forward to your participation in this event. Together, we can ensure that all older adults age with dignity, security and in the best possible health. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact Nataly Moran at n.moran@nhcoa.org or at 202-347-9733.

Sincerely,
