

Survey Of 150 Government Social Media Policies That Used Model Polices From Policy Services Or Associations

| New Federal Social Media Policy And Training Standards   | 150 Government Social Media Policies |
|--|--------------------------------------|
| Social Media policy and training comply with new U.S. Supreme Court and federal standards.       | No                                   |
| Social Media Policy was enforced with expert social media liability training for all employees.  | No                                   |
| Training instructor would qualify in court as an outside social media law expert.                | No                                   |
| Social Media policy was written by a top social media attorney, not a general in-house attorney. | No                                   |
| Social Media policy used precise policy language that was not vague or overbroad.                | No                                   |
| Social Media policy used specific First Amendment language required by federal courts.           | No                                   |
| Social Media policy included all core mass media liability issues.                               | No                                   |

* Legal Authority: See Liverman v. City Of Petersburg 844 F.3d 400 (2016)