

WEBINAR: Relax, Observe, Think: Rational Business Planning in the Face of COVID-19

The coronavirus pandemic has business owners frantically asking important questions. How will my company stay afloat? What if I have to let employees go? How can we stop this virus so we can get back to business?

While there are many things to consider, there is only one place to start: Relax, observe, and then rationally think things through as a business owner. Join us for a webinar on Tuesday, March 31 from 11am – noon, when James Moore & Co. partners Mike Sibley and Suzanne Forbes and HR Director Julie Kniseley will discuss several areas including:

- Assessing your situation
- Immediate steps to stabilize financially and prevent further infection
- Changing your operations to help maintain cash flow
- What to do in the face of possible layoffs or furloughs
- Letting innovation shine – can you change your operations to help the fight?
