

Southeastern Pennsylvania Synod

Presents

The Brossman Center, United Lutheran Seminary
7301 Germantown Ave., Philadelphia

The Building Summit brings together leaders in development to discuss innovative strategies for transforming how buildings serve their communities. One of the key themes of the summit is the adaptive reuse of existing structures—rethinking how to make use of underutilized buildings.

The Building Summit is free, but you must register in advance as breakfast and lunch will be provided. Space is limited to no more than three leaders per congregation.

Register no later than October 9:

REGISTER HERE

Our presenters

Robert V. Peters, B.Th., B.A., M.A., M.P.S. Founder of two award-winning nonprofits, PRAXIS HOUSING and HOUSING INNOVATIONS. Long time consultant on both economic and housing development projects.

Wes Willison He currently lives and works in Kensington, Philadelphia. Active on the board of New Kensington Community Development Corp and the Simple Way and works as a licensed Realtor.

Brina McKenzie, Senior VP of Real Estate Development for the Westrum Group

Adam Jacob, AIA. Partner Krieger + Associates Architects Inc