CAMPUS COUNCIL ON Faculty Life

Faculty Leadership Collaborative

UCSF

This message is sent from the Office of Faculty and Academic Affairs and the Campus Council on Faculty Life (CCFL)

We invite you to apply for an exciting leadership development program sponsored by the Campus Council on Faculty Life (CCFL). We encourage the participation of faculty who are, or who will be, playing a role in defining the future of UCSF within their departments and divisions and/or through School, Academic Senate, and campus-wide activities. If you are part of this group, we hope you will apply for the fifteenth UCSF-Coro Faculty Leadership Collaborative, to be offered in Fall 2025.

Please note that there will be no charge to participants or their departments.

We are inviting applications for up to 16 slots for the Fall 2025 program. Applicants should be salaried faculty appointed at greater than 50% effort, and we have learned that those who have been in a UCSF faculty appointment for 2 years or longer, by the time the program starts, may find the program most beneficial.

The combined virtual/in person program schedule is shown below and requires a commitment of around 75 hours. Full participation is expected (please see Attendance Policy in the link below).

Applications materials and program information are now available on the Academic Affairs website, https://facultyacademicaffairs.ucsf.edu/faculty-life/leadership-training.

The application deadline is 5:00 p.m., Friday March 21, 2025.
