

Afternoon Tea at The Gallery at Morning Star

*Living into Love
Reclaim the Sacredness*

Join us for afternoon tea and open, meaningful conversations about deathcare and natural burial. Discover gentle, legal, and affordable approaches to caring for our people and our planet—especially in a time when disconnection and rising costs feel overwhelming. Learn how these practices are accessible now and invite us to begin living into them today. Together, we can reclaim the sacredness of these human experiences and return to love as the guiding force in how we live. This is an open invitation: welcoming, interfaith, free event, open to the public.
