PARENT NEWS

Early next month please look for your child's mid year report in your wall pocket. This is a time for Renee and I to let you have a picture of what your child is like here at school. It is also time for you to comment on what you see from them at home. We value your input on these reports. We are also going to be doing parent teacher conferences with each parent to discuss the contents of these reports. Please let us know if you have any questions or concerns, we are always available during the day by phone.
