

Celebrating the 100th Anniversary of the 19th Amendment

UU Wellesley Hills

Unitarian Universalist Society of Wellesley Hills

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS***
OF WELLESLEY

She The People: A Graphic
History of Uprisings, Breakdowns, Setbacks, Revolts, and Enduring Hope on the Unfinished Road to Women's Equality

Author

Jen Deaderick

THURSDAY
October 24 7:00
309 Washington St.

Please join us for a friendly stroll down the rocky road to full equality for women in the USA. Author Jen Deaderick highlights the ups and downs of women's legal status alongside the significant social influences of the time, revealing the ways in which our day-to-day culture influences the freedoms women are allowed.

Jen Deaderick has written about gender and citizenship for the New York Times, the Huffington Post, and Dame Magazine. She is a lifelong Unitarian-Universalist.

Since 2008, she has run the largest Equal Rights Amendment page on Facebook. In 2012, she founded the #UseThe19th campaign, which encouraged women to get out and vote. In 2017, she took over the social media for A is For, an abortion rights organization founded by Martha Plimpton and other artists.

Sponsored by: UU Wellesley Hills and the League of Women Voters Wellesley Unitarian Universalist Society of Wellesley Hills, 309 Washington Street, uuwellesleyhills.org 781-235-7423