University at Buffalo
Alberti Center for Bullying Abuse Prevention
Graduate School of Education

2026-27 Virtual Colloquium Series

Beyond risk: Exploring protective factors for LGBTQ+ youth following peer victimization

Amy L. Hequembourg, PhD
Professor
University at Buffalo
School of Nursing

Jennifer A. Livingston, PhD
Associate Professor
University at Buffalo
School of Nursing

This colloquium explores social and individual factors differentially shaping mental health among cisgender and gender-diverse LGBQ+ adolescents. Results come from the To Be Honest (TBH) Study, which is an ongoing longitudinal survey study with LGBTQ+ youth who were between the ages of 14 and 18 years of age at baseline and residing in New York State. We explore distinct risk and protective factors that influence mental health outcomes across gender identities. The session will conclude by highlighting potential protective factors and implications for informing intervention to bolster the health of LGBTQ+ youth.

Thursday, September 17, 2026
11:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. ET
Virtually via Zoom

This is a free event, but registration is required at https://ed.buffalo.edu/alberti/events/colloquium-series

One hour of NASP approved continuing professional development (CPD) is available for this event.