

Jupiter Moves from Enemy's House to Home of a Friend – October 11, 2018

By Vachaspati Christina Collins

This quarter, Jupiter, the largest planet, will transit from Libra into Scorpio. Jupiter will be well placed in a friend's sign of Mars ruled Scorpio, it will be exalted in Cancer in the Navamsa, with its dispositor, the Moon, also exalted in Taurus in the 11th house from the Cancer placement. This at first glance appears very strong and positive. However, from all four Lagnas (Moon and Ascendant in both the Natal D1 and Navamsa D9 charts, Saturn is the natural benefic, while Jupiter will be challenging as ruler of bad houses, across the board. Strength initially will be strong, with Mars, the ruler of Scorpio still transiting exalted in Capricorn. Also, the transit originates on a Thursday, Jupiter's ruling day of the week in Vishaka. In addition, the Moon, while in the sign of Venus will be in Vishaka, a strong and good nakshatra of Jupiter changing signs in Jupiter dasa.

When Mars moves out of exaltation on November 5th, the positive delineation declines.

Jupiter after 6 months in Scorpio will transit fairly quickly into Sagittarius on March 29th 2019

Jupiter will be in Sagittarius for a very short time before it goes retrograde, still sandi at zero degrees, as it moves back into Scorpio for a longer duration (the entire transit of Jupiter through a sign is about a year).

The opposition sign of Taurus will find a dual experience with the Scorpio transit of Jupiter, ruler of their 11th house of gains giving a direct aspect to the sign. However, as the 11th is an upachaya, a house that improves over time, the gains will take a while longer to manifest. Also, Jupiter's other own sign of Sagittarius is 8th dustana from Taurus, transiting in the 7th from Taurus (ruler of the 8th in a 7th maraka – so financial gains can appear from legacies or inheritance due to loss.

Scorpio, a water sign ruled by Mars is secretive, and hidden. A Scorpio native prefers to be the power behind the throne rather than be seated on a throne. The depth of nature of the sign is intuitive, research oriented, telepathic and empathetic. The alternative side or darker side of Scorpio will desire in a disagreement or argument to get even, waiting long months or even years for their “moment.” This transiting Jupiter, also known as Guru or teacher, and the great healer will be very helpful for Scorpions as the Scorpio sign has been under the influence (Sade sati) of Saturn (the bringer of life lessons, and illness) for 5 years (two to go).

The root chakra is ruled by Scorpio which when Jupiter, the planet of expansion transits, can cause some to take an over-sexual approach to life. Conversely, many Scorpions inherently pursue meditation and spiritual pathways, depending upon their charts as a whole, creating a preference for isolation and celibacy. Jupiter will increase the depth of spiritual experience transiting in this sign for those of that mindset and intention. (yes, free will is an aspect of Jyotish)

Depending upon aspects from other planets this can be a healthy focus or a tormented malefic expression. With Jupiter, the planet of joy and happiness transiting through this sign, there will be an increase in sexual activity for some, a desire to reproduce or have children in others, and a depth of spiritual experience(s) for the majority. Dependent upon the nature of Jupiter in the individual chart or country mundane chart. For those that feel the Scorpio Lagna is the correct lagna for the USA, Jupiter will be transiting the first and will bring great gains. For those that feel the Sagittarius chart lagna is correct, the Jupiter transiting in the 12th will bring a more inward spirituality to the country, and more attention to “foreign” affairs and other countries. This will be a “telling” research to watch in the coming year.

The last time Jupiter went into Scorpio – Oct 27th, 2006.

Oct 27, 2006 MLB World Series: St. Louis Cardinals defeat Detroit Tigers to win 4-1

Nov 5, 2006 Saddam Hussein, former president of Iraq sentenced to death.

The reason I chose a positive and a negative outcome is to illustrate, that just because a good and beautiful transit is beginning – there could be another different planetary influence in play, that is negative depending upon the individual chart of individual or country in question.

The last time Jupiter entered Scorpio – Saturn was very also sandi (the first or last degree of a sign) at 29'42 Cancer– Just leaving the house of the Moon (who technically has no enemies, but still has Saturn owning the 7th maraka and the 8th dustana from Cancer) for the house of the Sun (owning the 6th dustana/upachaya and the 7th maraka). Note: there are several birth times out there for Saddam Hussein. I used Pisces rising with Saturn in the first because his father died prior to his birth and very often Saturn will be in the first house for those natives. Also, many give early morning on the 28th of April as the birth time.

Overall, Jupiter the greatest benefic will have a good two year run. In Scorpio, its friend's sign and in Sagittarius in his own sign, where once again people will be born with potential Hamsa yogas!
