

2020 I-Corps™ Bio-Entrepreneurship Workshop

I-Corps Mentors Needed

WHO

Mentor early-career life science researchers from groups underrepresented in biotechnology research organizations. Participants include research-active assistant professors, postdoctoral fellows, graduate students and advanced undergraduates from universities and colleges nationwide.

WHY

- Promote diversity within Biotechnology in your region by engaging with underrepresented workshop participants
- Connect with participants in your region and provide ongoing resources
- Work with teams as they solve problems through entrepreneurial concepts
- Assist teams in developing a professional network and provide feedback as they execute customer discovery through BIO's partnering software

WHEN

August 3-14, 2020 (Monday - Friday; times based on region)

WHERE

Virtual. All Activities will be held on Zoom.

Commitment / Schedule

- Friday, August 7: Team interview prep
- Monday, August 10: Interview prep (provide feedback to mock interviews)
- Tuesday – Thursday, August 11 -13: Be available for team consultation for each day
- Friday, Aug 14: Finale and debriefing (lessons learned), optional

Contact Liisa Bozinovic (liisa@oregonbio.org ) if you are interested!

Contact Details

If you have questions about the workshop, contact Stanley Maloy (smaloy@sdsu.edu) or Marc Sedam (marc.sedam@unh.edu; 919-923-5120).

For complete program information, visit <https://innovation.unh.edu/icorps/i-corps-bio-entrepreneurship-workshop>

The BIO 2020 I-Corps Bio-entrepreneurship workshop is funded by the United Negro College Fund (UNCF), the National Science Foundation, and BIO.