

Living History and a Pilgrimage to Rome

A Talk by Esther Brown Hodges-LeClaire '08 and Adam Hodges-LeClaire

7:00 p.m.
Wednesday, January 22
Grace Stuart Orcutt Library

Esther (Brown, SJA '08) and Adam Hodges-LeClaire spent most of the summer of 2024 walking the Via Francigena from Canterbury, England, to Rome, Italy. Adam is a public historian and tailor by profession and Esther is an architect with a focus on historic structures. Adam worked at Fort Ticonderoga for a number of years and now runs his own business, AHL Tailor and Naval Clothier. Esther spent the past eleven years working in the architecture field in Boston and now has her own firm, Johnston House Studio. Both Adam and Esther enjoy adventures, especially those with a focus on history and architecture.
