

Join Us

Valley Mountain Regional Center START Program Launch

Monday, October 3rd, 2022

9:30am-11:30am Pacific | 11:30am-1:30pm Central | 12:30 pm-2:30pm Eastern

CA START is a crisis prevention and response program for individuals with Intellectual/Developmental Disabilities and behavioral health needs. This program launch will provide an overview of the START Model, information regarding implementation, and specifics about the program's current progress and plans. It will also include a START model-specific training called a Clinical Education Team conducted by leaders in the field of Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities. The Center for START Services provides two free UNH CEUs for attending this training.

Who should attend?

- Service coordinators and regional center staff
- Other mental health and disability vendors and services
- Community members

How to Attend

This will be a virtual event. Use this link to register to attend:

CA START VM Program Launch Registration Form

Or scan this QR Code:

Co-Sponsors

Seeing beyond disability.

NATIONAL CENTER for START SERVICES
*Institute on Disability / UCED
University of New Hampshire*

Learn About START

As a new member of the national START network, you are invited to attend a virtual launch event that will introduce you to the START model, its core principles and approaches, and details about the START program in your community.

We encourage you to learn more by watching some of the free recorded presentations offered below.

START Virtual Orientation Presentations

- ☐ Foundations of START with Dr. Joan B. Beasley
- ☐ Application of Cultural Competence in START Service Delivery with Dr. Jill Hinton, Dr. Jennifer McLaren & Andrea Caoili
- ☐ Cultural Competency Panel Discussion with START team members from across the country
- ☐ Positive Psychology with Dr. Dan Tomasulo
- ☐ Understanding Trauma and MH-IDD with Dr. Jill Hinton and Dr. Karyn Harvey
- ☐ The Biopsychosocial Approach with Dr. Jill Hinton, Dr. Jennifer McLaren, and Dr. Karen Weigle

Watch more videos on our YouTube page

START, which stands for Systemic, Therapeutic, Assessment, Resources & Treatment, is a comprehensive model of service supports that optimizes independence, treatment, and community living for individuals with intellectual/developmental disabilities (IDD) and behavioral health needs. The Center for START Services is a program at the University of New Hampshire Institute on Disability UCED. To learn more about START, visit www.centerforstartservices.org and watch the newly released START documentary film “Now We Have Hope: The Strength of the START Community.”

Now We Have Hope: The Strength of the START Community is a documentary film about START programs and the people and families they support in North Carolina, Texas, and New York City.

“It is an excellent representation of what we do every day as START Coordinators and START Therapeutic Coaches.” NC START Coordinator