

FREEDOMSONG

ONE FAMILY'S STRUGGLE WITH ADDICTION.
ONE NATION'S PATH TO RECOVERY.

“I was always too afraid to discuss what went on behind closed doors in my family. I was ashamed. This play made me feel a lot less alone, like I wasn’t the only one whose family had problems.”

—Anonymous Audience Member, Beverly Hills, CA

“Freedom Song is the most powerful and emotional performance that every parent and teenager should see together.”

—Dr. Chuck Slonim, Board Member of Congregation Schaarai Zedek in Tampa, FL

Jewish Family Service of St. Paul proudly presents “Freedom Song,” an original musical production that brings to life the family experience of addiction within our community.

The production showcases a family celebrating a Passover Seder while also confronting the impact of addiction on the entire gathering. Through song, dance, tears, and laughter, every scene incorporates a unique teaching of personal faith and internal freedom.

“Freedom Song” was created by and is performed by individuals who are current or past residents of Beit T’Shuvah, an inter-denominational Jewish treatment program in Los Angeles.

We hope you will attend Freedom Song...to be moved, educated, empowered, and to be part of the solution to addiction in our community.
