

CHAPTER 59

The Blessings Of Community Life

AND STILL THE VOICE from heaven spoke unto The Man through the Sun of Righteousness saying: "It is not righteous for the family of man to live in fear and bondage to the powers of the world who hold the fruits of the earth to enslave their fellow man.

"God ☩ asks that men of Light break from the world order to live a new life of Light in community, reflecting God's ☩ Light to their fellow man, instructing them and teaching them of the new order of God ☩ .

"And by their labors, members of the Community shall endeavor to provide all the material needs of the body assuring that each person is provided with security, receiving love and companionship, and dignity while contributing to the welfare of the Community itself. Therefore, let each work according to his or her own ability. Each is to live a useful and purposeful life.

“And let each strive to serve God ☩ as teachers and instruments of Light: the main concern of each person being to attain the illumination of the mind that comes by looking at the sun, and then the enlightenment of the spirit through the Word of that Light which ensures the unfolding of the soul and its immortality.

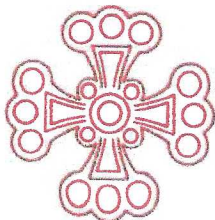

“Let it be known to each person of the Community that the striving for spiritual illumination requires the whole lifetime of a person. It is only by complete and total dedication to a higher way of life that man attains his true freedom from the world and participation in the Godhead.

“Therefore, let all members of the Community enjoy a life of material security without fear of want. Let each lead a meaningful life in which the talents of each are utilized to the good of the human family and the universe as a whole. Let each attain a position of importance and usefulness and in this manner the world shall lose its hold over them forever and they shall see the good of this higher life. Let each be made to know that the world enslaves them, puts them to undignified labors, exploits them, humiliates them, and in the end wastes their bodies, their minds and their talents. For no matter the amount of material possessions a person may accumulate in the world; no matter how much esteem or how many honors are bestowed upon them, the one blessing for which they were created to receive—the illumination of the spirit and immortality of the human soul—is denied them. For this the institutions of man cannot give.

“God ☩ would have mankind understand that the world suffers because of man’s ignorance of God ☩ and, above all, of their ignorance of His bountiful blessings which are real and lasting.

The world binds man to a useless life, wasted on the quest for transitory things. Therefore, let the Community instruct each member in the higher and more permanent things of God ☩ which were given for his benefit. When man experiences these blessings for himself, then he will be freed from the Darkness that envelopes his being; and he will be made to realize that God ☩ asks nothing of man—no sacrifices, no adoration, no worship. Such things are for lesser gods and Dark spirits who speak to man in dreams and visions and seek to obtain his homage out of fear and trembling.

“The True God ☩ of the Universe is as bountiful as the sun which sheds its light and heat upon the face of the earth. And God ☩ is the giver of the Sun of Righteousness which radiates a spiritual Light filled with God’s ☩ thoughts, illuminates men’s minds, and extends immortality of spirit and being. These are the work of God ☩ given for His creation. Therefore, let mankind participate in its Godhood without fear or dread.

“God ☩ has sent the Sun of Righteousness into the world as a gift. And God ☩ would that every man know of this gift. Wordly powers seek to deny man his spiritual rights, saying there is no God ☩, mocking and persecuting those who would know of the spiritual life. But let all men know that the Messianic Sun shall shine unfavorably upon such worldly powers. For they shall not know the Light, only Darkness. And the Darkness shall consume them in the end.

“For I say unto the races of all the earth that God’s ☩ Sun sends forth a Light to blind men of Darkness while giving life and new sight to men of Light. And this Light shall cause a dramatic change upon the earth which every race of man should know.”
