ST. PETERSBURG INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC FORUM

The St. Petersburg International Economic Forum is a leading international platform for discussion of the key issues on the global economic agenda and for exchanging best practices and key competences in the interest of providing sustainable development.

The key objective of the Forum is to serve as a practical tool for developing business through mutually beneficial dialogue between Russia and the international community.

SPIEF has been held annually since 1997.

Since 2005, the Forum has been held under the auspices and with the participation of the President of the Russian Federation.

// SPIEF 2021

SPIEF 2021 was the first business event of such magnitude to be held offline since the unavoidable break caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. The Forum was held under the theme 'A Collective Reckoning of the New Global Economic Reality', and addressed the clear need to return to face-to-face discussions in an attempt to turn innovative ideas into tangible breakthroughs across the globe.

* Figure only includes agreements whose value has been announced publicly.

// COVID-19 SAFETY MEASURES

An unprecedented set of sanitary and epidemiological requirements were in place for SPIEF 2021.

One of the main outcomes of the Forum was that a set of safety standards had been drawn up for holding major events all over the world during the pandemic.

These standards were developed in cooperation with Rospotrebnadzor and the World Health Organization.

- All participants and staff had to present a negative PCR test for COVID-19 to access the Forum. In total, more than 50,000 coronavirus tests were taken in the period leading up to and during SPIEF..
- Remote temperature monitors were in operation at the Forum venue.
- The premises were systematically cleaned with disinfectant, while air recirculation and air purifying devices were used..
- The use of personal protective equipment was strictly monitored.

VLADIMIR PUTIN

President of the Russian Federation

“The very fact that this massive forum is being held is certainly a positive sign. This once again shows that partner-like ties and contacts between entrepreneurs, investors and experts are gradually becoming customary and normal once again. We are also witnessing the same positive global economic trends. [...] One can already safely say that the global economy is returning to normal.”

TAMIM BIN HAMAD AL-THANI

Emir of Qatar

“This edition of SPIEF is taking place in the midst of unprecedented challenges facing the economy. [...] This only serves to increase the importance of the Forum, which has become a key international economic event. It also serves as an example for the international community with regard to advancing initiatives capable of fostering an environment conducive to regional and global economic growth, increased investment, and developing effecting solutions to shared economic issues. The truly international nature of this Forum in St. Petersburg clearly reflects the special role Russia plays in global and regional processes.”

JAIR MESSIAS BOLSONARO

President of Brazil

“The St. Petersburg Forum is a kind of geopolitical and geo-economic sounding board for the whole of Eurasia, a strategically important region which is constantly developing and finds itself at the epicentre of major transformations in today’s world.

As for the challenges of ensuring economic recovery in the wake of the pandemic, the Forum very much helps to establish new ties and strengthen old ones, which are fundamental if we are to create a prosperous and stable future.”

SEBASTIAN KURZ

Federal Chancellor of Austria

“In the last six months, our world has changed dramatically because of the pandemic and because of the crisis that has hit our economies. For that reason, it is a very good sign that this event is able to take place again in St. Petersburg. It is very important that we take a positive view of our future. [...]”

While Austria is a small country, we are part of a common system. Together with other countries we are fighting against the pandemic and against climate change. If need be, we will fight to ensure that welfare and high living standard prevail all over the world. However harsh the crisis may be, we are moving forward and will work together in many spheres of life for the purpose of cooperation.”

ALBERTO FERNÁNDEZ

President of Argentina

“It is a great personal honour to be participating in this meeting organized as part of the St. Petersburg International Economic Forum. It presents a great opportunity for all of us to reflect on the state of the world when the pandemic began. [...]”

Over the course of the pandemic, we have seen that it is not possible to pull through alone, that we need help from our friends and that if we work together to achieve a better future, we are much more likely to succeed.”

FÉLIX TSHISEKEDI

President of the Democratic Republic of the Congo,
Chairperson of the African Union

“First of all, I would like to thank the President of the Russian Federation, Vladimir Putin, for involving Africa through the Democratic Republic of Congo in this most important forum, aimed at promoting dialogue on global economic challenges. [...]”

The world we live in is increasingly becoming akin to a unified global village. For the last 16 months, humanity has been united in fighting the coronavirus pandemic. This experience shows that we can only move forward through combined efforts. Humanity is expecting joint efforts from world leaders in the fight against political, socio-economic and public health challenges.”
