

Mr. Aleksandr Borunov is the Director of the information service “It’s Easy to Ask” at the Foundation for Cancer Prevention in Saint Petersburg. The service receives and answers questions from patients who are diagnosed with cancer. Mr. Borunov is in charge of developing an information portal that will provide evidence-based knowledge to both patients and physicians, and he is also planning to develop reference materials and guidelines for patients on cancer and on broader health issues.