

Ms. Daria Semeina has been a PR specialist at the Foundation for Cancer Prevention in Saint Petersburg since May 2019. The Cancer Prevention Foundation is the only NGO in Russia that has established a private, highly competitive residency-training program in oncology. It also has a media portal Profilaktika Media, which offers public health education in the sphere of cancer and medicine. Ms. Semeina's responsibilities include interaction with the media and donors, preparation of analytical and informational texts for the website, event organization, and informational support.
