RURAL PLANNING WORKSHOP

DESIGN AND AFFORDABILITY

An Illustrated Talk by Randall Arendt, FRTPI, ASLA

Egremont Town Hall

7pm - 9 pm - Wed. Sept 10th

The Egremont Planning Board invites you to an evening with Randall Arendt, a nationally recognized expert and author, to consider the Town's upcoming zoning opportunities, and how they can shape the future of Egremont. This workshop is a unique opportunity to learn how new development can fit into Egremont's traditional small-town rural character.

THE DETAILS

As a supporting supplement to our current zoning work in Egremont, Mr. Arendt will give many visual examples showing how we can promote new housing - with an emphasis on affordability and design - that fits comfortably into the community's traditional small-town rural character.

Mr. Arendt, formerly Director of Planning and Research at the Center for Rural Massachusetts at UMass/Amherst, specializes in planning for smaller, rural New England towns. He is the author of 9 books on planning, including "Rural by Design".
