

2022 ANNUAL CONVENTION & SCIENTIFIC ASSEMBLY

GEORGIA WORLD CONGRESS CENTER, ATLANTA, GA
SESSION: JULY 30 - AUGUST 3, 2022
EXHIBIT DATES: JULY 31 - AUGUST 2, 2022

FROM THE CHAIR

Dear Participants,

This year's annual meeting will be like no other. The medical, social, and racial changes of 2020 still echo in our daily lives. Nevertheless, we are zoomed out and ready to resume a longstanding tradition, the 127th NMA Annual Convention and Scientific Assembly. As always, the agenda includes cutting-edge new topics and updates on common conditions to keep NMA Derm abreast of the management of diseases in which blacks carry the burden. Presenters include long-standing members such as past NMA Derm chairs Dr. Valerie Callender and Dr. Ginette Okoye, cosmetic guru Dr. Cheryl Burgess and newer members such as Dr. Kiyanna Williams and Dr. Achiamah Osei-Tutu.

We are excited to announce new changes while we keep old traditions. The hands on cosmetic workshop will include taser demos along with traditional injectables and fillers. The hair symposium has the traditional topic of CCCA and PRP but now also exosomes and introducing small hair transplantation cases into your practice. Finally, with new advances in medical dermatology, we will go back to basics with updates in acne and psoriasis coupled with a review of JAK inhibitors. Please see the agenda for more details.

This year's NMA Derm meeting is the place to reunite with old friends and make new ones. Earn more than 20 CME credits at the meeting during the day and have fun in the evening. We are especially looking forward to the NMA President's Gala, a black tie affair always held the Tuesday night of the event.

Finally, this is my last year as your chair. I would love to spend my last meeting with you.

I hope that you find that our organization is now thriving and has a bright future with Dr. Cheri Frey and then Dr. Hope Mitchell.

Sincerely,

NMA Derm Leadership

Executive Board

Cheri Frey, MD
Vice Chair

Chesahna Kindred, MD MBA
Chair

Hope Mitchell, MD
Secretary/Treasurer

Committee Directors

Rawn Bosley, MD
Regional Leader- South

DiAnne Davis, MD
Mentorship Committee Director

Cheri Frey, MD
Regional Leader- East

Michelle Henry, MD
Strategic Communications Director

Yolanda Holmes, MD
Membership Committee Director

Chesahna Kindred, MD MBA
Funding Committee Director
Advocacy Committee Director

Hope Mitchell, MD
Research Committee Director
Regional Leader- Midwest

Thank you to our sponsors!

REGENERON

GALDERMA

EST. 1981

abbvie

aerolase®

CeraVe®
DEVELOPED WITH DERMATOLOGISTS

MEET OUR FACULTY

Cheryl Burgess, MD

Dr. Burgess is the founder, medical director, and president of the Center for Dermatology and Dermatologic Surgery, PC in Washington, DC. She is an Assistant Clinical Professor at Georgetown University and The George Washington University located in the District of Columbia. Dr. Burgess earned her doctorate of medicine degree from Howard University College of Medicine in 1984, completed a residency in dermatology and became a Fellow of the American Board of Dermatology in 1988. She is an active member of the American Academy of Dermatology, American Society for Dermatologic Surgery, American Dermatological Association, Womens Dermatologic Society, Dermatology Foundation, Alpha Omega Alpha, Medical Society of the District of Columbia, the District of Columbia Dermatological Society and former Board of Directors for the American Society of Dermatologic Surgery, Women's Dermatologic Society, DASIL and the Skin of Color Society. She is currently on the Board of Directors for the American Academy of Dermatology.

Kiyanna Williams, MD

Dr. Williams is Section Head of the Skin of Color Section and Staff Physician in the Section of Micrographic Surgery (Mohs) and Cutaneous Oncology in the Department of Dermatology at Cleveland Clinic.

Dr. Williams received a Bachelor of Science degree in Human Physiology graduating magna cum laude from Boston University and received her medical degree from University of California, San Francisco. Dr. Williams completed a transitional internship at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, MI and a residency in dermatology at University of Michigan, followed by a fellowship in Micrographic Surgery (Mohs) and Cutaneous Oncology at Cleveland Clinic. Dr. Williams is a fellow of the American Board of Dermatology and the American College of Mohs Surgery.

Her special interests include Mohs micrographic surgery, skin of color and cosmetic dermatology. Dr. Williams has been involved extensively in medical education, mentorship and diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives.

Brooke Jackson, MD

Dr. Brooke Jackson is a board certified dermatologist and dermatologic surgeon, best selling author, 10 -time marathoner, healthy skin advocate and owner of Skin Wellness Dermatology Associates in Durham, NC.

After completing two fellowships, Laser Surgery at Harvard and a second in Mohs surgery, she founded the Mohs Surgery Unit at MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston. She then moved to Chicago, where she founded the Skin Wellness Center of Chicago and held a clinical faculty position in the Department of Dermatology at Northwestern University. In 2013, Dr. Jackson relocated to the Triangle area of North Carolina. She was an Associate Professor of Dermatology at UNC, Chapel Hill until opening her private practice Skin Wellness Dermatology Associates, PA. Dr. Jackson's practice philosophy focuses on patient education and skin wellness.

Dr. Jackson is a frequent and sought after guest and resource for national and local media on dermatology concerns. In 2022, she was featured in a national commercial for DOVE. An avid runner and budding triathlete, Dr. Jackson has completed 10 marathons (26.2 miles). She is married with three very active children and has written two books: Child of Mine: Caring for the skin and hair of your adopted child which was published in 2012 and, most recently, Skincare for Runners in 2021, a #1 amazon new release best seller. She has developed a product line JOYLA for the everyday athlete.

MEET OUR FACULTY

Ginette Okoye, MD

Dr. Okoye is Professor and Chair of Dermatology at Howard University College of Medicine. Her areas of clinical and research expertise are in cutaneous disorders that disproportionately affect people with pigmented skin, including hidradenitis suppurativa, cutaneous T-cell lymphoma, and health disparities in dermatology. She earned her Medical Degree from Columbia University College of Physicians & Surgeons and completed her dermatology training at Yale University, where she also served as Chief Resident.

Dr. Okoye has been recognized by the American Academy of Dermatology with a Presidential Citation, a Volunteerism Award, and the 2021 Patient Care Hero Award, as well as multiple student and resident teaching awards. She has been the recipient of research grants from the Skin of Color Society and the Dermatology Foundation.

Dr. Okoye is the immediate past Chair of the dermatology Section of the National Medical Association and Co-Chair of the Scientific Committee of the Skin of Color Society. She serves as an Associate Editor for the Journal of Investigative Dermatology Innovations, and on the Editorial Boards of the Journal of the National Medical Association and the British Journal of Dermatology. During the COVID19 pandemic, Dr. Okoye served as the Medical Lead for Howard University's COVID19 Community Testing Initiative and the Medical Director of Howard University's Employee COVID19 testing clinic.

Valerie Callender, MD

Dr. Callender is a Board-Certified Dermatologist who is known for her sensitive and cutting-edge approach to the management of hair loss in women and the treatment of pigmentation disorders. Dr. Callender has performed leadership roles in many dermatological organizations, including the Women's Dermatologic Society and the Skin of Color Society, which she is Past President of both societies, and has served on the Board of Directors and Executive Committee of the American Academy of Dermatology. She is the current President-Elect of the American Academy of Dermatologic Association. She is the Founder and Medical Director of the Callender Dermatology & Cosmetic Center and Founder and Principal Investigator for Callender Center for Clinical Research, which is in the Washington, DC metropolitan region.

Dr. Callender received her medical degree from Howard University, where she also did her residency and currently serves as Professor of Dermatology at the College of Medicine. She is the recipient of the Women's Dermatologic President's Award and Mentor of the Year Award, and the Dermatology Foundation's Clark W. Finnerud Award. The Clark W. Finnerud Award is given each year to an individual who has devoted extraordinary time and talent as a part-time teacher and clinician.

Ron Feldman, MD

Dr. Feldman is currently an Associate Professor of Dermatology at Emory University in Atlanta, GA. He has a subspecialty interest in Autoimmune Blistering Diseases (AIBD). This interest began as a dermatology resident at Cleveland Clinic and continued through his fellowship in Boston at the Center for Blistering Diseases. He has been the Director of the AIBD Clinic for the past 10 years and now manages many patients from all over the Southeast United States with various blistering diseases including pemphigus and pemphigoid.

Dr. Feldman conducts an active translational research program which includes ongoing clinical trials and collaborative efforts for biomarker analyses for advancement of novel and more targeted therapies. He has received numerous awards including the Junior Researcher Award and Hidden Gem Awards from Emory University. His research has been funded by the National Institutes of Health, Dermatology Foundation, International Pemphigus Pemphigoid Foundation, and Industry sponsors.

MEET OUR FACULTY

Tiffany Clay, MD, FAAD

Dr. Clay is a board-certified dermatologist serving the Atlanta metropolitan area. She graduated magna cum laude from Dillard University in 2006 and subsequently earned her medical doctorate at Meharry Medical College where she became a member of AOA. She completed her dermatology residency at Saint Louis University where she served as chief resident.

Dr. Clay has been practicing medical, surgical and cosmetic dermatology with Dermatology Affiliates since 2015. Her special interests include skin of color, injectable fillers and neuromodulators as well as skin cancer detection and prevention. She is board certified by the American Board of Dermatology. She is a member of the American Academy of Dermatology, American Society for Dermatologic Surgery, Women's Dermatologic Society, Georgia Society of Dermatology and Dermatologic Surgery, Atlanta Association for Dermatology and Dermatologic Surgery and the National Medical Society. She has been living in Atlanta since her childhood. She spends her free time with her husband and son.

Howa Yeung, MD

Dr. Yeung is an Assistant Professor of Dermatology at Emory University School of Medicine. He earned his MD from New York University, trained at Emory for dermatology residency, and completed a Master of Science in Clinical Research at Emory. His clinical practice focuses on caring for underserved patients living with HIV/AIDS and sexual and gender minority populations. His NIH-funded research program aims to improve prevention and outcomes of skin diseases that disproportionately affect sexual and gender minority populations, such as hormonal skin disorders in transgender persons.

Rawan Bosley, MD

Dr. Bosley is board certified by the American Board of Dermatology. He graduated Magna Cum Laude from Howard University and received his Doctor of Medicine from the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine. He completed residency in Dermatology at Wayne State University where he served as the Chief Resident. Dr. Bosley is an ASDS fellowship trained Dermatologic Surgeon completing his fellowship in Micrographic, Reconstructive and Cosmetic dermatologic surgery at the Chesnut Institute of Cosmetic and Reconstructive Surgery in Spokane, Wa

Dr. Bosley has authored several journal articles and textbook chapters across the fields of dermatology and facial plastic surgery. He is an associate professor of clinical studies at Texas Christian University College of Medicine. He is a member of the American Academy of Dermatology, American Society for Dermatologic Surgery, National Medical Association and the Texas Medical Association.

Candrice Heath MD

Dr. Heath is an Assistant Professor of Dermatology, clinical researcher and Director of Pediatric Dermatology at the Lewis Katz School of Medicine, Temple University. She sees both children and adults, is highly respected, and triple board-certified in Dermatology, Pediatrics and Pediatric Dermatology. She received her undergraduate degree from Wake Forest University and her medical degree from the University of Virginia. She completed her pediatric training at Emory University in Atlanta, GA. She then completed two dermatology clinical research fellowships, one with Dr. Susan Taylor in Philadelphia and the other at Northwestern with Dr. Amy Paller while simultaneously working in Pediatric Urgent Care as a pediatrician. She went on to complete her dermatology training at Mt. Sinai St. Luke's-Roosevelt in New York City followed by a pediatric dermatology fellowship at Johns Hopkins. She is a nationally recognized speaker and holds a variety of leadership roles including being the National Secretary-Treasurer for the Skin of Color Society, American Academy of Dermatology Diversity Committee and Vice-Chair of the Pediatric Dermatology Research Alliance Skin of Color and Pigmentation Research Focus Group.

When Dr. Heath is not seeing patients, speaking, on Zoom calls or posting on social media, she enjoys spending time with her new husband and bonus daughter.

MEET OUR FACULTY

Chesahna Kindred, MD MBA

Chesahna Kindred, MD, MBA, FAAD is a board-certified dermatologist practicing in Columbia, MD. As a pre-med student co-founded the MAPS chapter at the University of Southern California. She was the 3rd person in the history of University of Cincinnati to earn a dual MD/MBA degree. After a dermatology research fellowship at Howard University, she completed dermatology residency at the same institution. Currently, Dr. Kindred is the founder of Kindred Hair & Skin Center, chair of the dermatology section of the NMA, associate professor at Howard University, and founder/president of Onyx Medical Society. Dr. Kindred specializes in alopecia and is the first dermatologist in the nation to have an in-house full-service hair salon and nail salon in a dermatology practice. Locally she is a deacon at Celebration Church at Columbia and the immediate past leader of the Health Committee of the African American Roundtable.

Jim Pappas

Jim Pappas has been assisting Physicians for over 20 years and has over 2,500 clients around the country. He graduated from the University of Miami in 2000, with a degree in Bachelor of Business Administration. Immediately, he was drawn to helping others understand the financial world, by offering guidance and implementing strategies to accomplish his clients' goals. Mr. Pappas is the President of Pappas Financial Services, based in Miami, Florida and speaks to many Resident and Fellow Programs, Physician Conferences, and Physician Practices. He is a Court of the Table Qualifying Member of the Million Dollar Round Table.

Corey Hartman, MD

Corey L. Hartman, MD, FAAD is the founder and medical director of the Skin Wellness Dermatology in Birmingham, Alabama. He is also assistant clinical professor of Dermatology at the University of Alabama at Birmingham School of Medicine Department of Dermatology. A native of New Orleans, Dr. Hartman attended Emory University graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology. After earning a doctorate of medicine from Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tennessee, he completed an internship in Internal Medicine at Tulane University Medical Center and a residency in Dermatology at the University of Alabama School of Medicine. Dr. Hartman is certified by the American Board of Dermatology and is a fellow of the American Academy of Dermatology and the American Society for Dermatologic Surgery.

Dr. Hartman has a special interest in Dermatologic Surgery, Injectables, the latest in Laser technology and specializing in treating skin of color. He is internationally recognized as an expert on injectable fillers, neuromodulators, hyperpigmentation and social media in dermatology and frequently speaks at meetings around the world on these topics. He serves on the boards of many organizations and companies including Editorial Board of the Journal of the AAD, Board of Directors of the Skin of Color Society, Dermatology Times, Men's Health Magazine, Galderma Aesthetics, Allergan Aesthetics and Revision Skincare.

Bonnie Simpson Mason, MD

Chynna Steele, MD

Alia Brown, MD

Alet Simmons, MD

Robert Swerlick, MD

Donald Glass, MD

Titilola Sode, MD

Adeline Kikam, DO

Ato Wright, MD

Seemal Desai, MD

Meena Singh, MD

Loren Krueger, MD

Susan Taylor, MD

Sharleen St. Surin-Lord, MD

Susan Peterkin

Tunisia Finch, MD

Achiamah Osei-Tutu, MD

Maren Shaw, MD

Carl Washington, MD

Callisia Clarke, MD

2022 ANNUAL CONVENTION AND SCIENTIFIC ASSEMBLY AGENDA AT A GLANCE

Saturday July 30, 2022

7:30 – 8:00am Breakfast

8:00 – 11:00 am Practice Management and Careers in Dermatology

Essential Policies for a Successful Practice

Keys to Contracts & Negotiations

Expanding your Practice

9:50 – 10:00am Break

10:00 – 10:30 p.m. A. Paul Kelly, MD Medical Student Symposium

10:30 – 11:00 p.m. John A. Kenney, Jr., MD Resident/Fellow Symposium

11:00 – 1:00 pm Cosmetics & Procedural Dermatology Workshop

Nuances in Injectable Procedures for Men

Advanced Treatments of the Cosmetic Patient

Practical uses of Autologous Fat in Dermatology

Thread Lifts

Treatment Options for Facial Hyperpigmentation

1:00 – 3:00 pm Edward Mazique, MD Symposium

3:00 – 5:00pm Live Demonstrations

NMA Derm Reception

Sunday July 31, 2022

8:00 – 9:00am Sponsored Breakfast

9:00 – 11:00am Edith Irby Jones, MD Plenary

11:00 – 12:00pm Dermatology Grand Rounds

1:00 – 4:00 p.m. George Cohen, MD Medical Dermatology Symposium

Pruritus

Bullous Dermatoses

Treatment of Keloids

Dermatopathology – Interesting Cases

Radiation Oncology and Dermatology

Transgender Dermatology

Population Health

5:00 p.m. Sponsored Dinner

2022 ANNUAL CONVENTION AND SCIENTIFIC ASSEMBLY AGENDA AT A GLANCE

Monday August 1, 2022

7:00 – 8:00am Sponsored Breakfast

8:00 – 11:00am Back to Basics Workshop

Updates in Psoriasis

Peanut Allergy

Jak Inhibitors

ACR criteria for Mohs

Cosmeceuticals

Updates in Atopic Dermatitis

Updates in Acne & Rosacea

11:00 – 1:00 pm Lunch/Exhibit Halls

8:00 – 11:00am Alopecia Symposium

Updates in CCCA

Growth Factors and Exosomes

Topical and Oral Therapies for Alopecia

Introducing Hair Transplant into your Clinic

Partnering with Hair Stylists

Diet and Alopecia

Panel Discussion

Tuesday August 2, 2022

7:30 – 8:00am Breakfast

8:00 – 10:00am AAD Presidential Address

10:00 – 11:00am Diversity Forum

11:00 – 1:00 pm Lunch/Exhibit Halls

1:00 – 3:00pm Harold Pierce Surgical Symposium

Marsupialization in HS

Disparities in Skin Cancer

Optimizing Closures

Emerging Treatments options for Melanoma

Surgical Panel

NEWS & EVENTS

✓OTE

Elections will be held for the following:
Secretary/Treasurer
House of Delegates
Student Co-chairs

Regional Networking Event
September 1, 2022
via Zoom

*sponsored by Proctor and Gamble