From: Rev. Jeff Foels,
This past Sunday, we ordained Mark Kipp to the office of elder, and installed Randy Peterson to the office of elder and JoJo Kipp, Janet Menary, and Amy Leaf to the office of deacon. I am so grateful for their service to the church, and for our Board of Deacons and the church Session.

When I was in seminary, in our church polity class, Cynthia Campbell told us about how easy it is to get misled about ordination. When we ordain officers, whether deacons, elders, or ministers, we are not conveying some special privilege. Ordination is not a sign of greater merit, nor is it a hierarchy of power. Instead, it was the organization of responsibility - that there are certain things the church must do, and the church needs to be sure to set aside people to ensure that they are done.

A Biblical example of this was Stephen, the first 'deacon', who was appointed to be sure that the widows and orphans were being served when it came time to share the food of the church. They saw something that needed special attention, and set him aside to do so.

In the same way, members of our congregation are set aside with the specific tasks of caring for the congregation and discerning its mission and order. They are not the only ones who share in this task - the whole congregation does, but they are the ones who ensure that it happens. I want to say a special thank you to our outgoing Elders and Deacons. For Belinda Hollman, Rick Ackerman, and Suzy Robertson, and for deacons Abby Larson and Ann Foote: Thank You! We are grateful for your work and service, your devotion and dedication, your wisdom and care.

With gratitude, Jeff

About Dr. King- During the less than 13 years of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s leadership of the modern American Civil Rights Movement, from December, 1955 until April 4, 1968, African Americans achieved more genuine progress toward racial equality in America than the previous 350 years had produced. Dr. King is widely regarded as America's pre-eminent advocate of nonviolence and one of the greatest nonviolent leaders in world history.

Drawing inspiration from both his Christian faith and the peaceful teachings of Mahatma Gandhi, Dr. King led a nonviolent movement in the late 1950's and '60s to achieve legal equality for African-Americans in the United States. While others were advocating for freedom by "any means necessary," including violence, Martin Luther King, Jr. used the power of words and acts of nonviolent resistance, such as protests, grassroots organizing, and civil disobedience to achieve seemingly-impossible goals. He went on to lead similar campaigns against poverty and international conflict, always maintaining fidelity to his principles that men and women everywhere, regardless of color or creed, are equal members of the human family.

Dr. King's "I Have a Dream" speech, Nobel Peace Prize lecture and "Letter from a Birmingham Jail" are among the most revered orations and writings in the English language. His accomplishments are now taught to American children of all races, and his teachings are studied by scholars and students worldwide. He is the only non-president to have a national holiday dedicated in his honor, and is the only non-president memorialized on the Great Mall in the nation's capitol. He is memorialized in hundreds of statues, parks, streets, squares, churches and other public facilities around the world as a leader whose teachings are increasingly-relevant to the progress of humankind.
