From: Rev. Jeff Foels,

When it comes to winter, animals have three primary ways of dealing with the cold. The first is avoidance – think the geese or monarch butterflies who fly south to warmer weather, avoiding winter entirely. A second, is allowing themselves to freeze and then being able to later thaw. This is rarer, seen in painted turtle hatchlings and woolly bear caterpillars. The wood frog, is another example – they produce a natural antifreeze, allowing as much as 2/3 of their body to freeze and later thaw back to normal use when spring comes.

A third strategy, is to adapt to the cold. Dense coats and layers of blubber help foxes or seals to be insulated from harsh temperatures. Hibernating like a bear, conserves energy to let the body focus on keeping itself warm. Honeybees can keep their hives warm inside, with lots of movement and clustering. Burrowing under the snow or living in the mud in the bottom of a lake, means avoiding the worst of the cold when you're a mouse or a fish that can't migrate, like a duck.

So, avoiding, accepting and bouncing back, adapting. All are three good strategies that work not only for dealing with cold, but also for dealing with challenges in general. We do the same thing with our lives and our church. As we engage with Bloom Early Learning and the construction to come, we're making a big adaptation for the future of the church. When the specifics of construction occur, we may need to accept an inconvenience and bounce back, or just to avoid a room altogether for a week or two, as we adapt to a few weeks of "winter".

And as always, the winter promises that spring will come. Animals find new food and bear their young. Green things return and shoot from the cold ground. Temperatures warm and in all things, new life blooms. Jeff

Save your shoes-clean your closets!

Ben Hollman & PPC youth will again be leading a soles4souls shoe drive in March & April. They will be collecting used and new shoes. Last year they donated 125 pairs and are looking to double that this year! Please consider going through your closets and hanging on to shoes no longer needed to donate to soles4souls. We'll have a drop box set up in March.

Used Shoes = New Opportunities

Your new and gently-worn shoes help individuals start and sustain small businesses to lift themselves out of poverty. Donated shoes are a viable resource to help entrepreneurs provide crucial necessities for their families.

Traditions of Valentine's Day-

Valentine's Day 2019 traditions include card and gift giving. Popular gifts exchanged on the day include cards, fresh flowers (mainly the rose or plants), chocolates and sweets. Additionally, people also complement these with other gifts of love to express affection and love. Valentine's Day dinner and dance parties are organized all over the country to celebrate the occasion. Many couples hold private celebrations in homes or restaurants. Children also gift handmade gifts and cards to their friends and loved ones. Make it a fun day!
