

Katie Loadholtes

My name is Katie Loadholtes and I have been a member of St. Benedict's since Day 1. I was born in England and moved to San Francisco as a child. When I was a teenager, my parents "discovered" the Episcopal Church and it was a perfect fit for us. I was so happy that Nick was on-board with attending a local Episcopal Church when we met. We have been married for 16 years and we have 2 amazing children - Allison (10) and Cooper (8). We moved to Smyrna 8 years ago and love the community so much. I work part time from home and if this were a normal year, I would be an assistant Pre-K teacher at a local preschool.

I have always been very involved in Children's Ministries at our Church - helping with and leading Children's Chapel, assisting with Sunday School and Spirit Week. I really enjoy working with the children. I enjoy hanging out with my family and friends, crafting, and watching movies.

Greg Stevens

Greg Stevens has been a member of St. Benedict's since 2012. Greg and his wife, Christie, were drawn to St. Benedict's by the sense of community that exists in the church. At St. Benedict's, Greg has assisted with the Angel Tree and School Backpack programs and especially enjoys the wide-ranging discussions in Adult Formation.

Originally from Ohio, Greg has lived in Smyrna since 2008. Professionally, Greg has worked in the area of Training and Development for over 35 years. After serving in management at Accenture and Home Depot for over 20 years, Greg started his own company, Performance Based Learning, which provides training delivery to a variety of businesses throughout the United States. Greg has a B.S. in Business Management from Ohio State University, a Master of Science from Georgia State University, and Ph.D. from Florida State University. In his free time, Greg and Christie enjoy spending time at a second home in Pensacola Beach, Florida and traveling throughout the world.

Victoria Patrick

I am a life-long Episcopalian and my daughter, Lucinda, and I have attended St. B's for 11 years. Currently, I am on the Task-Force for Reopening committee, a lay reader, a member of the Daughters of the King, and coordinator of the acolytes. Since COVID, I have enjoyed virtual Compline and Adult Formation. Previous activities have included teaching Sunday School, participating on the Children's Ministry committee, and chairing various St. B retreats.

My professional life has involved 30 years as a School Psychologist in the Cobb County School District. Personally, I love to read, garden, and hike or camp. I attend St. B's because it provides my family a community full of love and spiritual grace.

Phil King

Phil first visited St. Benedict's in 2015 and was genuinely surprised at how quickly he found himself feeling connected with the church community. He enjoys the quiet of the 8:00 AM service on Sunday mornings where he is a lay reader and Eucharistic Minister. A regular in Adult Formation, Phil also participates in Men's Bible Study, a thriving St. Benedict's Small Group, helps coordinate St. B's Outreach efforts, and was recently on St. Benedict's Nominating Committee. Phil serves on the board for the Episcopal Community Foundation as chair of the Communications Committee.

Phil met Amy during his first year in EFM class at St. Benedict's. In time, they fell in love and married. They live in Smyrna along with their daughter, Isabel, a senior at Campbell High School. Phil and Amy enjoy long walks together in the park, sitting on their front porch, watching the birds, and eating too much Mexican food. In his spare time, you can find Phil in his home studio making art in hopeful and insistent pursuit of meaning.

A graduate of Auburn University, Phil has over 20 years' experience as a creative services manager directing creative strategy and execution in corporate digital and print retail space. He is a patient manager of people and a natural cross-functional collaborator who builds focused consensus in complex structures. Before college, he served in the United States Air Force as an Administrative Assistant.
