

Letter Head of School

Dear SCCS Families,

Just this week, senior Wyatt Parson came to me excitedly and said, “Mr. Zimmerman, you need to read this!” It was an email from Liberty University informing him that he was receiving the valedictorian scholarship. This is a scholarship which gives Wyatt four years of college free of tuition cost at Liberty University! That is over $23,000 a year he will save because his tuition costs will be covered. The exciting thing for Wyatt is that even though he was accepted to Campbell University, NC State University College of Engineering, and UNC Charlotte, his first choice of colleges is Liberty University. He received offers of scholarships elsewhere, but this was the one he was wanting.

Senior Joseph Burton has also been accepted into his first choice of colleges out of the ones he has applied. He has also received a merit-based scholarship to help with college cost. Joe will be attending the University of Wyoming this coming fall.

I offer my congratulations to both of these students. They represent SCCS well, as do those who graduated before them. I have been reflecting on our past graduates and current seniors and the colleges they have been accepted to and are currently attending. Here is the list:

Campbell University, NC
The Citadel (Military College of SC)
Christendom College
Clemson University
Hampden-Sydney College
Johnson and Wales University
Liberty University (Multiple Students)
NC State University
NC State University College of Engineering
Sandhills Community College (Multiple Students)
University of Alabama
UNC Asheville
UNC Charlotte
University of Wyoming
Virginia Military Institute

This list will undoubtedly grow as we continue graduating citizens of excellence who observe, think, and articulate with humility, reason, and clarity for the glory of God. This week SCCS had a representative from Patrick Henry College come visit. They were so impressed with our upper school students. They asked me how they can recruit our students because their experience of enrolling students from classical Christian schools has been so positive. No doubt we are preparing our students well for college. Pray with me that other Moore County families would see the benefit of our Classical Christian Education and enroll their students, so they too would have opportunities like Wyatt, Joe, and all our previous graduates.

Mr. Todd S. Zimmerman, M.S. Ed.
