*New Jersey School
Physician Coalition*

The New Jersey School Physician Coalition (NJSPC) is a collaborative network of medical professionals throughout all 21 counties in NJ dedicated to supporting the health and well-being of students across the state.

As we prepare for the launch in early 2026, data collection is a crucial step to building this network of school physicians. If you're a school physician, or know someone who serves in the role, please use the QR code or click here to provide contact information and get connected!

Joining offers the opportunity to:

- ✓ Share clinical insights, best practices and real-world strategies
- ✓ Advocate for student health at the local and state level
- ✓ Strengthen collaboration with public health and education partners
- ✓ Champion and strengthen the physician's role in school wellness
