

State Street Jewelers

State Street Jewelers originated from lifelong Geneva residents Robert and John Anderson who had been operating Anderson's Jewelers and repair on Third Street since 1952.

In 1985, the brothers semi-retired and sold Anderson's Jewelers to local jewelry retailers Donna Zollner and Jeffrey Hampton.

State Street Jewelers started at 216 West State Street until 2000 when they moved into more spacious quarters next door at 214 W. State Street. In 2013, State Street Jewelers moved to 230 West State Street after the long time Merra-Lee Shops had closed.

This longtime business is connected with the community and generously partners with non-profit organizations such as Geneva History Museum, Mutual Ground and Living Well as well as belonging to several area chambers.

State Street Jewelers has been the Fox Valley's Premier jeweler for over 30 years. They are located in the heart of downtown Geneva at the corner of State and Third Streets. They carry luxury brands such as Hearts On Fire, Simon G, Baume & Mercier and others to create a rich shopping experience for their discerning clients.

Jewelry is a celebration of your life, the milestones you have reached, and much more. Their staff can help you find the perfect piece of jewelry for any occasion, or bring your one-of-a-kind idea to life with their custom design services.

The jewelry professionals at State Street Jewelers include an exceptional team of Gemologists, Designers, and Goldsmiths each having years of experience that will provide you with unparalleled customer service.

The staff is there to serve you 7 days a week with extended hours during the Holidays. Stop in or contact them at statestreetjewelers.com
