May - June 2021

Summertime Security: As the weather improves and Covid-19 restrictions ease, many of you will be taking full advantage of your gardens to relax and entertain friends and families. Although warmer weather encourages us to open windows throughout the house to aid ventilation, whilst we enjoy that barbecue in the garden, it only takes a moment for the opportunist thief to take advantage of lax security in the front of the house. Your front door and windows should be securely locked whilst you are elsewhere in your property.

The further easing of Covid restrictions may tempt you into booking that long-delayed holiday, despite the limits on destinations imposed by the "traffic light" system. Here follows a reminder of our usual advice to avoid the scammers:

- Book your holiday through a reputable company which is a member of a recognised travel authority, e.g. ABTA.
- Be wary of booking websites that appear high up in a search engine but have not been in business long. Search a site's name, plus the word "scam" to see if anyone has reported fraud.
- Ensure that email addresses are genuine. By clicking on the address, the full name will appear – if bogus, a bizarre string of words and letters will appear.
- If renting a private villa or apartment, call the owner or agent to check its authenticity, obtain the full address and check it out on Google Maps.
- Pay only by credit card and on a web page which has the https:// prefix and padlock in the browser window.
- Take out holiday insurance at the time of booking. Check that insurance covers fraudulent bookings, also cancellation owing to Covid-19.
- Report any scams to Action Fraud – see top of page.

With the maximum contactless card payments rising to £100 later in the year from the current £45.00, cards will be even more valuable to thieves. Advice is to:

- Avoid keeping cards in an "easy to access" pocket or bag. Consider taking just one card on a night out to limit losses.
- Never hand over a card to a cashier or waiting staff – ask them to bring the card reader to you. This reduces the risk of a card being skimmed and cloned.
- Always check the amount you have been charged and ask for (and keep) the receipt. Checkout staff do not automatically issue one for contactless payments.
- Be aware that when using contactless cards at a vending machine or on a bus or train, no receipt is issued. Check your bank statement to ensure that the correct payment was taken.
- Guard against a card's details being skimmed whilst still in your possession by lining a wallet or cardholder with tinfoil which will block any radio frequency signals to and from the card. Alternatively, buy a custom-made anti-fraud wallet.
- Act fast if a card is lost or stolen so that the provider can cancel it. Keep emergency phone numbers for each card in a safe, handy place.
- Check bank and card statements regularly for suspicious transactions.
- Review your credit report periodically to help spot any unusual activity. If you do fall victim to fraud, some credit reference agencies can help repair any damage to your credit history.
- Consider asking your provider for a non-contactless card if you prefer to avoid the technology. Not all providers will do this but even if they do, you will have to make a specific request for the facility.

Catalytic Converter theft continues unabated. Remember that thieves have to use trolley jacks in order to lift your vehicle in order to steal the convertor. Here are some preventative measures for your consideration to avoid this theft occurring:

- Contact your vehicle dealership about fitting a manufacturer approved product to prevent the converter being removed.
- Etching the converter with a serial number can help police track it and reduce opportunities for thieves to sell it
- Install a Thatcham approved alarm that activates if the vehicle is lifted or tilted.
- If you can, park your vehicle in a locked garage or well-lit street as close to your home as possible.
- If you have a driveway park the vehicle against a wall/garage door and consider installing CCTV and “dusk-to-dawn” lighting covering the area.

Need a locksmith? Always apply the same principles when finding a locksmith as you would when finding any other trader – NEVER, EVER use someone who calls at your front door. Do your research properly by getting recommendations of local tradespeople whom you know have done a good job elsewhere. Check whether their profession has a professional body – The Master Locksmiths Association is the one to approach to see if the trader you have contacted is registered. As always, obtain more than one quote for the work required. LBH Trading Standards has recommended a useful article by WHICH? which outlines poor workmanship by rogue locksmiths. You can access this at:

A case of postal interception occurred recently whereby a postal worker had mail stolen whilst effecting delivery to the addressee. Fortunately, the perpetrator has now been arrested, thanks to CCTV coverage. You can minimise your own risk of fraud by:

- Always shredding items bearing name, address and financial details before recycling
- Ensuring that external letterboxes are secured well and hard to open without a key. Empty it daily.
- Fit doorstep CCTV specifically covering your front door or letterbox and approach area.
- Remove your name from telephone directories by contacting your service provider.
- Ensure that your details do not appear of the searchable open electoral register by using the Government “Register to vote” service: <https://www.gov.uk/register-to-vote> even if you have already registered to vote.
- Check your security settings on social media – your date of birth can be very easy to discover.
- Use a search engine to look for your own name and address or phone number online – if it appears then you can contact the body responsible and ask for those details to be removed.
