A black and white photograph of a person with curly hair, seen from the side, looking out over a vast ocean. They are wearing a backpack. A large, semi-transparent pink circle is overlaid on the left side of the image, partially obscuring the person's head and shoulder.

“We initially agreed to do this as a way of ‘beefing up’ his college resume. What we didn’t expect was the positive change that he experienced.

Opening his eyes to the arts, cultures, and the world made for an extremely maturing experience.”

A movie poster for the film 'Loving Every Second'. The background is a photograph of a man, Henry O. Yang, in profile, looking towards the left. He is wearing a bright blue jacket and has a backpack on. The background shows a traditional Chinese village with stone buildings and a mountain in the distance. The title 'LOVING EVERY SECOND' is written in large, white, sans-serif capital letters. Below the title is a thin white horizontal line. Underneath the line, the text 'Henry · Student · China' is written in a smaller, white, serif font. The poster is framed by a black border. There are decorative elements: a large grey circle on the top left and a large pink circle on the top right, both partially overlapping the poster. A large pink circle is also on the bottom right, containing the text 'Let's Watch!'.
