

SVdP Disaster Services works to help victims of Hurricane Irma in Florida

Elizabeth Disco-Shearer, CEO of Disaster Services Corporation, SVDP-USA and Gail Bertrand, Director of Long-Term Recovery Programs and Disaster Case Management, were deployed to Florida this past weekend where they met with Joe Sabatino, SVdP Council President for the Diocesan Council of Venice, Fla. He aided in providing DSC with Irma assessments in his Diocese. Disaster Services Corporation is actively working on establishing a plan with six local parishes where they will set up recovery centers during the first two weeks in October. At these pre-established locations, Vincentians will meet with survivors to help them get connected to local and national disaster recovery resources. Please keep all those impacted by disaster and all those donating their time and resources to help others in your prayers and thoughts.
