

Community Happenings

The Arc of Aurora's Sunday Bowling League

Everyone of every ability is welcome to join anytime. This year's season is underway and ends on May 13, 2018. LOCATION: AMF Aurora Lanes, 16700 E. Mississippi Avenue, Aurora, CO 80017 | TIME: Bowling practice starts at 12:45pm. Games start at 1:00pm | COST: $9 each week for three games and shoes. Have questions or want to sign up? Call Dottie for more information: 303-880-5506. Please note that supervision is not provided and you must be at least 16-years-old to participate.

Autism Resource Fair – Save the Date!

On May 20 from 11am-3pm, The Autism Community Store will host its annual Autism Resource Fair.

Your 2018 guide to free days at Denver Zoo, museums and other cultural hotspots

Save money (and time) with this handy list.

Elitch Gardens Tickets - Theme Park Opens April 28, 2018

The Arc of Aurora has an exciting offer for our Members to go to Elitch Gardens Theme Park. You can purchase discounted day tickets and season passes by clicking here through our special ticket link.

Low Sensory Mornings at the History Colorado Center

The History Colorado Center opens its doors for families who prefer a lower sensory museum environment. From 8:00AM-10:00AM on April 21, June 16, and September 15 the museum will be closed to the general public. Attendance limited and sounds in the exhibits turned down. Admission is free and space is limited. RSVP is required. Call Shannon at 303-866-4691 to RSVP.

Sensory Sensitive Sundays at Chuck E. Cheese's

The Chuck E. Cheese's located at 7510 Parkway Dr., Littleton, CO 80124 offers a sensory-friendly experience on the first Sunday of every month from 9:00 - 11:00 a.m. The experience includes less crowding and noise, dimmed lighting, show and music turned off or down, limited appearances by Chuck E., and food and games. Parents are permitted to bring snacks for their children if needed due to dietary restrictions. Call the location with questions: (303) 706-1155.

Low-Sensory Mornings at Denver Aquarium

On the second Sunday of each month, the Denver Aquarium opens its doors early at 8:30 a.m. with sounds and flash flood exhibit turned off. The lights will be turned down for a quieter experience. Sounds and lights will turn back on at 9:45 a.m. for the regular business day. The cost is the regular ticket price: Adults (12-64) $20.50, Seniors (65+) $19.50, Children (3-11) $14.50, 2 and under are free.