The splendour of its golden age is visible throughout its streets and exceptionally well-preserved ruins. As we explore this UNESCO World Heritage Site you will have the opportunity to breathe in the centuries of cultural effervescence, visible in the Ephesus Agora, Odeon, the Houses of the Patricians, the beautiful Temple of Hadarian and the astonishing Library of Celsius.

Island of Patmos - Choose 1

1. Religious visit to St John's Monastery - Grotto of Apocalypse (Half Day: Up to 4.5 hours)

On this excursion, you are sure to experience the sacred grandeur of this intensely spiritual Dodecanese island. We visit Chora, St. John's Monastery and the Holy Grotto of the Apocalypse, which for centuries have drawn pilgrims to Patmos for prayer, esoteric seclusion and solemnity. From the port of Skala, we travel up the mountain by air-conditioned coach to immaculate Chora. Its traditional white houses encircle the bottom of the exterior walls of the Monastery of St. John the Divine. An architecturally homogenous village, the cobblestone streets and alleys of Chora are lined with mansions built by wealthy ship owners during the 17th and 18th centuries. As you wind your way up to the Monastery, at the top of the hill, be sure to seek out an authentic taste of this unique Dodecanese village along some of its quieter thoroughfares. Now surrounded by the village, the fortified Monastery of St. John, whose walls are more than 15 meters high, was built with local gray stone. In 1088 St. Christodoulos requested the entire island of Patmos from Byzantine Emperor Alexis I Comnenus so he could found a monastery dedicated to St. John. Even after "The Blessed" was driven from Patmos by pirates, monks continued building the monastery which, within a few centuries, became an important cultural, religious and spiritual center. Within its warren of chapels and courtyards, the Monastery of St. John houses medieval icons of the Cretan School and the Chapel of the Theotokos (the Virgin Mary), whose beautiful frescoes dating to the 12th century; the monastery's main chapel date to the end of the 11th century. There is also a museum within the monastery, with icons, religious objects of silver and gold, sacred relics and embroidered vestments of inestimable value on a display. Halfway down the mountain to Plaka, we stop at the Holy Grotto of the Apocalypse. According to Christian tradition, three fissures (a symbol of the Holy Trinity) opened in a wall in the grotto, and St. John heard the voice of God, who granted him a series of visions of the future (revelations), vivid pictures of how the Church would grow, battle the wicked powers of earth and hell and ultimately emerge victoriously. The voice commanded the saint to transcribe these visions: St. John dictated the revelations to one of his disciples, Prochoros, and this text became the Book of Revelations. During his time in this sacred cave, St. John also composed the Fourth Gospel. The entrance to the grotto is marked with a mosaic of the visions of the saint. Inside the grotto, the nightly resting place of the saint's head is fenced off and delineated in beaten silver. We return to the Plaka, where you'll have free time for shopping and a coffee beside the harbour. Close your eyes and let the grandeur of this miraculous island suffuse your soul.

2. Patmos countryside tour with Hora and Grotto of Apocalypse (Half Day: Up to 4.5 hours)

We start our tour with a drive through Skala, the only port and the center of Patmos Island where you will also find a beautiful beach, the new modern marina and most cafes, restaurants, tavernas and bars of the island, all clustered together. Our first stop is the Cave of the Apocalypse -- an important place of pilgrimage as it is said to have been the place where St John heard the voice of God and where he received the words of the Revelation. We will then go to Chora, a medieval settlement from where you will enjoy a wonderful view of the Monastery of the Apocalypse, Skala and the north-eastern side of the island. Its architectural details have been respectfully restored ensuring full harmony and balance with the sacred Monastery. Our exploration continues with a scenic tour of the rocky, volcanic landscape of the island where we will also stop to take pictures of the ethereal windmills. We will say farewell to Patmos at Arion Bar on the Skala promenade -- the oldest café on the island and the best place to enjoy a classic cappuccino.

3. Traditional Feast in Patmos (Half Day: Up to 4.5 hours)

If you're looking to really soak up and savour culture in Patmos, then this traditional feast is la crème de la crème. You'll be whisked from the port in Skala to a traditional taverna – scenic drive included – where a true banquet of flavour and colour awaits. Pull up a chair to the wooden tables, all laden with steaming hot food, and tuck into a wealth of mouth-watering traditional dishes. They all sing with local ingredients and spices and are made as they have been for decades.

And in the true Greek fashion, every meal will be capped off with some music that really puts the 'live' in lively. You'll soon find yourself up on your feet on the dancefloor, arm in arm with your fellow guests and dancing the one and only Greek Zorba. It's an immersive experience in Greek culture and cuisine to leave Patmos on a sweet note.
