Marion Mann lifts up prayers of thanks for all of Memorial's prayers for her and my husband. She has felt the love and it has made the days better knowing that she has a loving church family. She continues to seek His guidance. Throughout this stressful time, she is human and struggling to hold on to joy. There are days she feels she has lost it but then there are other days she is touched by His blessings and know that, with faith and prayer, she will again find that joy. Psalm 30:5 continues to be her mantra.*
