PASTOR RAMON DUVALL

Two political parties had a serious problem on their hands. A man had arisen that was winning the hearts of the people and threatened the establishment's hold on power. They had many secret meetings where they plotted the downfall of the man and all those who agreed with him. They knew they could not defeat him on ideas, because the ideas he presented actually worked. They chose another tactic: personal distraction.

They accused him of being from an immoral family. He wasn't a part of their club, so they considered him a failure as a leader. It did not matter that wherever he went thousands of people turned out to see him. The people believed his message and supported him in spite of the establishment's allegations. That made the two parties angry.

They claimed he had inappropriate relationships with women. They thought he made insensitive statements about the poor. He didn't say things the way they thought they should be said. He wasn't politically correct. They were especially irate when he said they were liars and called them the devil. As their anger grew they became consumed with the desire to take him out.

They called him dangerous, too dangerous to lead. They accused him of plotting terror and the destruction of government buildings. They became even more enraged when all their lies about the outsider did not destroy his influence. Beside themselves, the two parties employed false witnesses to accuse him of illegal acts. In the face of these allegations, many followers abandoned him, even most of his organization's staff. Seemingly defeated by anger, hatred, and lies, he lost everything. His movement was stopped, and his ideas silenced. The establishment won, or so it seemed.

The two political parties I speak of were the Pharisees and the Sadducees. The outsider? His Name is Jesus. "He was despised and rejected—a man of sorrows, acquainted with deepest grief. We turned our backs on him and looked the other way. He was despised, and we did not care." (Isaiah 53:3) While I am not equating Jesus with any candidate for office, I have this question. If the only Perfect Man who ever lived was not good enough for the establishment political parties, who can ever be? It has become clear to me that establishment leaders only care about their own power, not the future of our nation.

I am convinced of these two things: Jesus can never be stopped, and neither can God's plans for our nation!

CONDO MARKET

During the past 93 months, the condo inventory has been reduced from 3,494 units to 793 units. We presently have 5 Foreclosures on the market, 2 Short Sales, 69 Pending Sales and 54 Contingent Sales. There have been 71 condos sold this past month.

Inventory is down by 38 units, Foreclosures are up

MY OPINION

Here's my opinion on abortion. I've got two miracle babies sleeping in their cribs right now. Two babies born at 27 weeks. Two babies who were NEVER on a ventilator. They could fit in the palm of my hand. With the abortion laws, they could've been aborted just a few weeks prior to when they were born. But, they weren't and we are forever grateful for that! Believe me, these babies mean more to us than anything. They were able to survive with supplemental oxygen through a CPAP machine and then Emma came off oxygen when she was just 2 lbs 10oz when she turned one month. Can someone please tell me why they think a baby that would be just a few gestational weeks younger than my two babies not feel anything and they aren't alive? You're wrong. You're so wrong. I've watched these babies fight and they feel pain...I heard their cat-like cries when they were stuck with needles in the NICU, when sometimes I wondered how they could even get blood from something so tiny, or when they were bothered while trying to sleep. And to think that babies just a few gestational weeks earlier could be killed? Really, any baby at any gestational age being killed? It makes me sick to my stomach. There are SO many people who would love to take those babies and love them. Please, think before you consider abortion. Think of the future that baby may have. Think of a family who has been desperately trying to have a baby. I can guarantee you that there are plenty of people who would love and care for the baby if you're not able to. My two babies just show that babies born that early do have a fight in them. They are real people. So, please...think before you have an abortion or support abortion.

We are very excited about our new web site. You have asked for one site where you can search all the listings in Bay, Walton and surrounding Counties using the same parameters that the Real Estate Agents use in searching for properties. This site uses direct IDX feeds from the MLS systems and is updated every 15 minutes so you don't waste your time dealing with outdated information. Please go to JimFreeRealty.com and give it a try.

There are 90 million registered Christian voters that have the right to vote because since 1914 over 623,699 brave men and women have given their lives and hundreds of thousands of men and women have received non mortal wounds to protect that right. It is likely that some of these brave men and women were family members or friends.

"The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing." (Edmund Burke) In the last Presidential Election only about 26% of Christians voted. This a very important election and I believe we can do a lot better than 26%.
