

Compassion-Centered Spiritual Health (CCSH™)

A collaboration between Emory University's Spiritual Health at Woodruff Health Sciences Center and the

Center for Contemplative Science and Compassion-Based Ethics

Free Webinar Information Session

An event supported by ACPE Community of Practice
"Use of Contemplative Practice in CPE Supervision"

On

Thursday, December 13, 2018

3:00 p.m.—5:00 p.m.

Please register at:

<https://goo.gl/forms/VHlx3mvaklM3SMlR2>

(First Come, First Served: Only 50 in-person and 500 online slots available)

Facilitated By:

Timothy Harrison

Associate Director for CBCT® Center for Contemplative Science and Compassion-Based Ethics of Emory University

Maureen Shelton

Director of Education
Spiritual Health at Emory Healthcare*
Woodruff Health Sciences Center
* an ACPE –accredited CPE System center

Mission

To support spiritual health – individually and collectively –through strengthening and sustaining compassion rooted in our common humanity.

Vision

- ◆ Provide specialized education, training and certification opportunities in CCSH to our Spiritual Care Strategic Partners--ACPE: The Standard for Spiritual Care and Education, Association of Professional Chaplains, Canadian Association for Spiritual Care/Association canadienne de soins spirituels, Neshama: Association of Jewish Chaplains and National Association of Catholic Chaplains.
- ◆ Provide spiritual health interventions inspired by CBCT® (Cognitively-Based Compassion Training) for use by care providers from any – or no – faith tradition
- ◆ Create research opportunities that integrate ACPE CPE best practices of Spiritual Health with the CBCT® core curriculum.

well-being personal interpersonal systemic

compassion