

The Amyloid Beta Peptide is a natural protein found in the brain. With Alzheimer's disease, this protein builds up and forms clumps called plaques, which cause damage to the brain.

